HUNGER STRIKE ON KOMAGATA

Some Indications That East Indians May Adopt Method of Suffragettes to Emphasize Their Demands.

GURDIT REFUSES TO SUPPLY FOOD

Payment for Charter of Boat Is Also Refused—Messages to King and the Duke of Connaught.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 3.—The outstanding feature today in connection with the East Indians aboard the steamer Komagata Maru, now anchored in Burrard Inlet, was a strongly worded dispatch to King George, Buckingham Palace, London, and H. R. H. the Duke of Copnaught, Governor-General of Canada, at Ottawa, informing His Majesty and the Governor-General that the East Indians aboard the Komagata Maru have been starving and without water for two days.

J. Edward Bird, the legal representative o the East Indians, made himself responsible for this statement, and added that copies of the telegram had been forwarded by him to Mr. Malcolm Reid, head of the Immigration Department here, through whom all communications from the ship had to come.

Mr. Gardner-Johnson, to whose firm the Komagata Maru is consigned, and Mr. Malcolm Reid, both asserted emphatically that the Komagata Maru was well supplied with provisions and water. As a matter of fact, no less than 200 tons of water were sent to the vessel today.

Charter Money Refused

Asked as to what took place when he went on board this morning and formally demanded from Gurdit Singh payment of the charter money, Mr. Gardner-Johnson stated that the leader of the East Indians definitely refused either to make any statement or to pay any money until he was enabled to do so in Mr. Gardner-Johnson's office ashore.

"I told him," said Mr. Gardner-Johnson, "that I was not the Government and that I could not comply with his request, but this had no effect upon his decision."

Mr. Gardner-Johnson added that he later saw Mr. Reid and obtained his consent to allow a man belonging to the Komagata Maru to come ashore and buy any provisions that were wanted aboard, but this offer was refused by the East Indians.

"Gurdit Singh has absolutely no excuse with reference to the provisioning or watering of the ship, because he is now well aware that he can send anybody he wants ashore to get the necessary provisions—himself excepted," observed Mr. Gardner-Johnson. He added that he had not yet cabled to Messrs. Sato & Company of Kobe, agents for the owners, and that he would not do so until the eighteen hours were up, as in the meantime there might possibly be some satisfactory developments. If Gurdit Singh has not paid the necessary money or been enabled to land the passengers by June 12, the captain will be ordered to return.

Obligation on Charterer

Incidentally it may be stated that there is a special clause in the charter that the charterer, in this case Gurdit Singh, shall feed his men. Such was the official statement made to the representative of The Colonist.

Mr. Bird was very indignant at the treatment which he had received at the hands of the immigration authorities here, although he admitted that the local officials could hardly do other than they had done, in view of the fact that they had probably received definite instructions from headquarters to adopt the measures which they had adopted. He declared that the East Indians ashore would supply all the provisions necessary once the department would depart from the position that it had control of the ship.

"We say that the department is entitled to watch the ship to prevent anyone getting off, but that it has no right to prevent anyone going on the ship in the stream," said Mr. Bird. "They have invited myself and members of the East Indian committee aboard. I left last night to test the immigration department's attitude, and it was

AMERICAN RAILROADS

German Financial Authority Asserts That Rates They Are Allowed to Charge Are Too Low

BERLIN, June 3.—Arthur Von Gwinner, managing director of the Deutsche Bank, and one of the leading banking authorities in Europe, today discussed American railroad affairs before the American Luncheon Club here. Among other things he said:

"What the American business situation needs now is permission for the railroads to raise their rates. American roads pay fully twice the wages paid in Prussia, and yet they are allowed to charge only half the continental rates, whereas their earning capacity is restricted by the same natural limitations as in Europe.

"The Prussian roads charge fully twice the rates of the best Eastern railroads, and the English roads charge threefold."

Premier Morris Returns Home

LONDON, June 3.—Sir Edward Morris, Premier of Newfoundland, sailed yesterday in order to reach St. John's in time to receive the Governor-General of Canada, when he makes his forthcoming visit. During his stay here he has been successful in raising only half the amount required for purposes of railway extension.

LOST IN GREAT STORM

Fate of Steamer Henry B. Smith Definitely Made Known by Note Enclosed in Bottle

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 3.—From a crumpled piece of paper, with greasy prints on it, can be worked out the story of the fate of the steamer Henry B. Smith, which left Marquette, Michigan, in the teeth of a terrific storm last November and was never heard from again.

The paper was picked up in a bottle by surfmen from the Vermillion lifesaving station as they patrolled the beach near Vermillion Point, and reads:

"Sunday Morning— To the Hawgood Company, Cleveland, finder please forward. The Henry B. Smith broke in two opposite number five hatch, about twelve miles east of Marquette. We are having an awful time. (Signed) Oliver."

Not a soul was saved and only one body ever found, that of the chief engineer, whose corpse was washed ashore near Michipicoten, on the Canadian shore, and found by Indians this Spring.

The letter was brought to the Sault by the captain of the steamer Caribou, who received it from Lightkeeper Carlson at Whitefish Point, and it will be forwarded to the Hawgood Company, who owned the vessel.

Immigration Agent Dead.

LONDON, June 3.—News reached the immigration offices of the Canadian Government here today of the death of the Dominion's representative at Antwerp, Belgium, Mr. D. Treau De Coell, whose remains are being shipped to Ottawa for burial.

WHOLE OF P. G. E. UNDER CONTRACT

Officials of New Railway Confer With Premier—Coast Terminals at Squamish to Be Commenced Shortly.

Mr. J. W. Stewart, president of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway; Mr. P. Welch, of Spokane, the widely-known contractor, who is building the line, and the latter's son, Mr. J. Welch, spent yesterday in the city, conferring with Mr. D'arcy Tate, vice-president, and Sir Richard McBride, with regard to progress on the great Provincial undertaking.

Mr. Stewart has just completed an inspection trip all over the line, and he was enabled to present such gratifying reports to the Premier, as to the progress made, as to elicit from Sir Richard the statement that he was perfectly satisfied with the manner in which the work was being prosecuted.

An interesting incident in connection with the conference yesterday was that it was the first occasion that the vice-president, Mr. Tate, had met Mr. Welch. The latter is only just recovering from a very serious illness of some months' duration.

Whole Line Under Contract

Interviewed by The Colonist, Mr. Stewart said that the entire line of the Pacific Great Eastern was now under contract, with the exception of some thirty-four miles. Grading is in progress along the whole right-of-way from Squamish to Fort George and will practically be finished this year.

Before the end of this year it is intended to put in operation an accommodation train service between Squamish and Lillooet. In this section of country there are fine tracts of agricultural land which will thus be made accessible for the settler, of whom there are large numbers preparing to take up homesteads. General Manager Sperry is already operating accommodation trains for settlers as far as conditions will permit.

Mr. Stewart reports that a uniform force of no less than 6,000 will be maintained on the work for the balance of the year. In this connection he mentioned that there was this season an ample supply of labor, this condition being mainly due to the fact that the Pacific Great Eastern is the only railway undertaking at present under way in the Province, both the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern Pacific being practically finished.

Grade to Fort George This Year

Weather conditions, says Mr. Stewart, are ideal for the rapid prosecution of work. The snow has all gone off the mountains except in the higher levels. With a long Summer season ahead there is every expectation that the whole line will be graded to Fort George before the expiration of the present year.

The important announcement was made by Mr. Stewart that within a few weeks development work will be started on the Coast terminals of the Pacific Great Eastern at Squamish. This will involve large expenditures for the improvement of the harbor and the laying out of the townsite. Squamish is pronounced by competent authorities to be one of the finest harbors on the Pacific Coast. It is said to be much more accessible than Prince Rupert and to compare very favorably with San Francisco in respect to accessibility to shipping in all weathers and at all seasons.

Mr. James Welch, who has been in charge of construction, has recently re-

FATAL SHOOTING ACCIDENT

Eight-Year-Old Boy Shot by Brother With Rifle—Died in Few Minutes

VERNON, B. C., June 3.—Arthur Stroud, eight years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stroud, ranchers in B. X. Valley, a few miles from the city, was accidentally shot early this morning by his twelve-year-old brother, Ray. The accident occurred when the two boys were playing with a new 22-calibre rifle, which was supposed to be not loaded. The gun went off and shot the younger boy through the neck. The bullet entered at the left, emerging on the right side of the neck. He died in five minutes of hemorrhage.

BODIES HEAPED IN CORRIDORS

Mad Panic in Steerage of Empress Said to Have Been Responsible for the Death of Many Passengers.

FEROCITY BRED BY DESPERATION

More Light on Situation in the Depths of Vessel Expected From Evidence at Inquest—Officers at Their Posts.

QUEBEC, June 3.—It was stated this evening that two officers of the Empress of Ireland and three of the third-class passengers are being held to give evidence at the adjourned session of the inquest into the Father Point disaster of last Friday morning, which will be held on Saturday.

The officials would not give the names of those who would be called, but it is understood that the men from the Empress will be asked to describe the occurrence on the night in the corridors of the steerage. Many and horrible rumors have been circulated of the struggles of the passengers whose berths were far below the water line to reach the decks, and it has been claimed in some quarters that these rumors have been substantiated by the fact that in the hands of some of the Italian and other foreigners knives were clinched when the bodies were picked up, and that at least one woman who tried to climb the stairs from below to safety bore three long knife wounds on her body, ghastly evidence of the fight that occurred.

Panic Breeds Ferocity

Little has been told of the manner in which the warning of disaster was taken by the passengers in the depths of the ship. There has been nothing conclusive in the reports, and to a great extent they have been rather vague. Now, however, the rumors are assuming a more definite shape, and at the inquest it is expected that the real story may be told.

It is stated that panic laid hold of the majority of the third-class passengers when the tilting of the ship told of the real danger. Many of the foreigners, as proven by their bodies, had delayed to get their valuables and to dress. Then, finding that disaster was imminent, all sense of that courage which has saved many a sinking ship from being the stage for the production of one of humanity's tragedies was lost. The cowardice of fear fell upon them.

Trampled in Mad Rush

Women were trampled under foot, it is claimed, in the mad rush for the stairs. The primeval instinct to save themselves swayed all, and, screaming in their panic, they fought to save themselves. Like tigers, they snarled, leaped and scratched and bit their way to the front. There at the foot of the stairs was an impasse. The crowd had jammed.

DR. HERRIDGE IS NEW MODERATOR

Eloquent Ottawa Divine Is Elected to Position by General Assembly of Presbyterian Church in Canada.

MUCH BUSINESS TO BE DEALT WITH

WOODSTOCK, Ont., June 3.—Rev. Dr. W. T. Herridge, the eminent Ottawa divine, is the new Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, being elected to that position tonight at the opening session of the Assembly in Knox Church here. Five names altogether were submitted, but one of the nominees, Rev. John Neill, of Westminster Church, Toronto, withdrew, and another, Rev. A. B. Baird, of Winnipeg, was declared ineligible, as his name was not on the list of commissioners appointed to the assembly.

The names upon which a vote was taken were those of Dr. Herridge, Rev. Principal Scrimgeour, of Montreal College, and Rev. Dr. D. D. McLeod, of Barrie. In accordance with the usual custom, a standing vote was first taken as between Principal Scrimgeour and Dr. McLeod, the latter being declared the choice. Then a similar vote was taken to decide between Dr. McLeod and Dr. Herridge, the latter being elected by an overwhelming majority.

Woodstock's Welcome

Woodstock, the county seat of historic Oxford, within whose boundaries there are probably more Presbyterians than in any other district of a similar size in the Dominion, threw open her doors tonight to the scores of divines from Coast to Coast who are arriving for the annual session of the great Presbyterian Parliament. Elaborate preparations have been made, and many outings are arranged for the visitors, among them being a trip to historic Knox Church, Embro, the heart of Zorra, which has given more young men to the Presbyterian ministry than any other church in the Dominion, and from which charge graduated the celebrated Mackay, of Formosa; "Ralph Connor," of Winnipeg, and many others who have become shining stars in the Presbyterian firmament.

ICE GOES OUT AT NOME

Revenue Cutter Bear and Steamer Corwin Enabled to Reach Port—Passengers and Mails Landed

NOME, Alaska, June 3.—The ice in the roadstead went out just as the revenue cutter Bear and the passenger steamer Corwin came in from sea on Monday night.

Both vessels worked their way through openings in the ice for several miles, but might have saved their energy, for the whole mass, extending eighteen miles from shore, broke loose and drifted out to sea, permitting the ships to come to their anchorage. The passengers and mail were landed by tramway as usual.

The Bear has gone to St. Michael's to land the mail for points on that side of Norton Sound.

SALVATION ARMY SERVICE

Vast Host, Speaking Many Tongues, Expected to Gather on Sunday at Many Distant Points

MONTREAL, June 3.—In sixty-nine countries and colonies, 200,000 soldiers of the Salvation Army will speak thirty-four different languages on Sunday, in the memorial services which are to be conducted the world over in honor of those of the Empress dead who belonged to that organization.

It is estimated that about 2,700,000 people will gather in all the citadels and buildings of the Army to mourn for the 138 of the Army that went down in the waters of the St. Lawrence last Friday morning with the Empress of Ireland.

WOMEN RESORT TO INDECENCY

Use Language in Reference to King Which Papers Do Not Print—Picture Gallery Attendant Hit With Hatchet.

LONDON, June 2.—The militant suffragettes made another insulting attack on the King yesterday and called him names, one of which the newspapers do not print. This occurred at a meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union. The speakers were cheered when they made condemnatory references to the King for not receiving Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst at Buckingham Palace, and one of the women raised loud laughter by applying a contemptuous appellation to the King. Another called him a puppet in the hands of a corrupt government. Another launched a threat by declaring that in future she would stick her stamps on all letters upside down and "give him the chance of standing on his head, as he could not stand on his own feet." The meaning of this is that there is a superstitious idea among some Englishwomen that inverting a postage stamp constitutes an insult to the King.

Will Lie on Steps

"I will lie on the steps of the House of Commons without food or water until Asquith consents to receive a deputation."

This threat was uttered by Sylvia Pankhurst at a meeting at Limehouse, tonight, and she declared she would carry it into effect should the suffragettes fail in their endeavor to see the Premier on June 10.

Other speeches at the same meeting breathed defiance to the Liberal Government, which was denounced as alone responsible for militancy, and suggestions of wholesale incendiarism were made.

Murderous Attack

A savage attack with a hatchet was made today by a young and stylishly-dressed suffragette on an attendant at the Dore Gallery, who tried to prevent her from destroying valuable pictures on exhibition there. The woman had already ruined two paintings in the gallery, which is in the heart of the fashionable quarter of London, and was hacking a third when an attendant seized her arm. She turned on the man and rained a shower of blows on his body, severely injuring him. Other at-

GETS CANADIAN EXPERT

Government of Victoria State Selects Mr. J. P. Jones, of Fort William, to Report on Wheat Transport

MELBOURNE, June 3.—The State of Victoria has been investigating the transport-of-wheat problem, as the traffic is assuming large proportions and farmers are finding facilities inadequate.

The state ministry, after having held an inquiry into the matter, has decided to appoint Mr. J. P. Jones, of Fort William, Ontario, a member of the Canadian grain board, to report on the best methods of handling the traffic.

It is felt that the great experience that Mr. Jones has had in dealing with similar problems in Canada eminently fits him for the work the state government wishes him to carry out.

HAVANA SHOOTING CASE

Former Governor of Province and Former Member of House Sentenced for Killing Chief of Police

HAVANA, June 3.—General Ernesto Asbert, former Governor of Havana Province, and Eugenio Arias, a former member of the House of Representatives, were sentenced today to twelve years' imprisonment for the killing in July, 1913, of General Armando Riva, chief of the national police. Senator Vidal Morales, who was with the others at the time of the killing, was convicted on two charges of firing a shot in the street, and carrying a revolver without a license. A fine was imposed.

Police Captain Emilio Campina, whom the defendants accused of attempting to shoot them, was acquitted.

AWAIT ANSWER FROM CARRANZA

Mediators Hopeful That Constitutionalists Will Yet Be Represented in Conference at Niagara Falls.

PLANS INVOLVING NEW GOVERNMENT

Receipt of Arms and Ammunition Gives Huerta Party More Confidence—Federal Force in Tight Place.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 3.—Meditation tonight waits on General Carranza, commander-in-chief of the Constitutional forces in Mexico. He has in his possession a communication from the three South American envoys which opens the door for Constitutional representation in the conference here. Upon his word depends whether the entire Mexican problem will be settled by diplomacy or whether the Constitutionalists will continue to fight their way to Mexico City.

The mediators have in a dignified way smoothed the path for Constitutionalist participation. The United States Government wants them to accept. A rejection of the invitation may eventually mean the withdrawal by the Washington Government of the moral support it has been extending to the Constitutionalist cause.

Mediators Hopeful

The mediators tonight are hopefully confident that General Carranza will send envoys here. Instead of being hastened, the negotiations would be indefinitely prolonged by such a course, but they think a pacific settlement would in reality be more quickly reached, as all parties in the Mexican dispute would then be here to consider the programme of peace.

There were no conferences today with either Mexican or American delegates. It may be stated that all principals would like to see the Constitutionalists enter the negotiations in a spirit of conciliation. There will be no obstacles placed in the path of the Constitutionalists by the Huerta delegates.

Hitherto the Constitutionalists have had two objections to the mediation programme. They declined to discuss internal affairs, but desired to treat on international questions. They refused to arrange a suspension of hostilities against Huerta. Both of these objections, it is understood, have, in a sense, been overcome. A middle ground is believed to have been found, and the mediators feel encouraged and optimistic. They profess confidence that the Constitutionalists will see their way toward meeting their views.

The Mexican delegates have also taken a forward step in publicly announcing last night that General Huerta is prepared to withdraw from the provisional presidency and will turn over the government to an administration consti-

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO RELIEF FUNDS

Many Companies, Firms and Individuals in England Give Generously to Assist Empress Sufferers.

ACTUARY SAYS $900,000 IS NEEDED

LONDON, June 3.—Eighteen thousand pounds has been subscribed to the Mansion House Empress of Ireland fund. Today's principal donations, in addition to those already cabled, were:

Rothschild & Sons, £1,000; Brown, Shipley & Co., £262; Steerns Bros., £210; James Taddy & Co., £105; Watts & Co., £105; Huntley & Palmer, £105; Emile Erlander & Co., £105; Konig Brothers, £105; Mills, Currie & Co., £105; Samuel Montague & Co., £100; Sir Thomas Skinner, £1,000; Hon. Francis N. Curran, £50; Princess De Polignac, £50; Earl of Wemyss, £50.

The Liverpool fund at present amounts to over £4,000.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company and Sir Thomas Shaughnessy have contributed £5,000 and £500, respectively, to both the London and Liverpool Empress of Ireland funds.

The Cunard Company has sent $1,200 to the Liverpool relief fund, the Oceanic Steamship Company $1,250, and the Elder Dempster Company $500.

Large Amount Necessary

LIVERPOOL, June 3.—In order to provide adequate relief for the dependents of those lost through the sinking of the Empress of Ireland, the sum of $800,000 is needed, of which $400,000 should be allocated to the families of the crew. This is the estimate given to the Lord Mayor of Liverpool by Duncan Fraser, the actuary connected with the Titanic fund.

Petawawa Camp

LONDON, June 2.—Lord Brooke, who will be one of those in charge of the forthcoming cavalry manoeuvres at the Petawawa camp, sailed for Canada via New York today, accompanied by Major Earle, of the Grenadier Guards, as chief staff officer. The recent reports that Prince Alexander of Teck would visit Canada for this purpose fell through on his appointment to the Governor Generalship.

ONLY TEMPERANCE BEER

Suspicious Cases of Liquor Seized at Petawawa Camp Found to Be of Non-Intoxicating Character

OTTAWA, June 3.—Bearing the name of a well-known brand of ale, forty cases were seized at noon yesterday at Petawawa camp by Col. E. B. Morrison, director of artillery, acting under direct orders from Col. Sam Hughes.

The cases were found in the lines of the battery of artillery from London, Ont. As it is against the orders to have intoxicants of any description at camp, Colonel Morrison was instructed to seize the liquor and place the officer commanding under arrest. However, in this case the bottles were found labeled "Temperance Beer," so it was not necessary. Surgeon Beecher certified today after examination that the beer in the cases was non-intoxicating, and the officer in command gave his word of honor that no intoxicants had been brought to the camp.

Col. Hughes, when seen tonight, stated that the facts as given above were correct and also reiterated his determination to keep liquor out of the camps.

Defamation Conspiracy

LONDON, June 3.—T. W. Greeland, formerly assistant editor and director of the Academy, who was arrested on April 15 on a charge of conspiracy with Lord Alfred Douglas and others to charge falsely with a criminal offence Robert R. Ross, the executor of the estate of the late Oscar Wilde, was today committed for trial. Bail was refused. Lord Alfred Douglas, who was indicted at the same time, is supposed to have gone abroad.

FALSE CHARGES OF NEGLIGENCE

Dr. Grant and Mr. Hyamson Contradict Statements as to Crew of Storstad—Captain Kendall's Conduct Praised.

MONTREAL, June 3.—At the Place Viger Hotel today Dr. Grant, ship's surgeon on board the Empress of Ireland, and Lionel Alexander Hyamson, a British commercial traveler from London, contradicted in the most emphatic terms statements which are being made attributing careless conduct to the officers and crew of the Storstad, and, at the same time, spoke in no less striking terms of the utter falsity of the charges made against Captain Kendall.

Dr. Grant said that in his boat there were three Norwegians, every one of whom rendered all assistance in his power to assist those in need, and the same applied to the men aboard the Storstad. If at any time there was any seeming want of action, Dr. Grant was inclined to think that it arose by reason of the ignorance of the English language on the part of the Norwegian seamen, but he himself was not aware of a single case of neglect. On the contrary, every assistance was given.

Mr. Hyamson said there was not a word of truth in the suggestions made as to callous conduct. Everybody did his best. The doctor and he worked together from the beginning.

If there had been any brutality or hesitation in rendering assistance, he most certainly would have known. As a matter of fact, all turned out their belongings and gave them every stitch of clothing they had. From the captain's wife to the humblest seaman everybody did his or her best, and such stimulants as were required for the injured and suffering were freely laid at their disposal.

Captain Kendall

Dr. Grant, referring to the condition of Captain Kendall, said he found the captain quite incapacitated and unable to walk, having apparently been injured in the back as well as internally, and he had to be assisted by two men. The doctor tried as hard as he could to get him to take a little brandy, but he would not take it. He found out afterwards that he was a life-long abstainer.

"I am certain the captain had had no liquor. I examined him very closely and could not have failed to have smelled the liquor had he taken any. I took the captain and put him to bed in the captain's cabin on the Storstad. He was in a very weak condition and much alarmed me. I insisted that he should take some brandy, and at length succeeded in getting him to take a mouthful. He said he could take no more, as he had never taken any in his life, and it certainly seemed

MOTORDROME FATALITY

One Man Killed and Ten Others Injured When Motor Cycle Crashes Into Crowd

PITTSBURG, June 3.—A spectator, believed to be Charles F. Marzolf, was killed and ten other persons were seriously injured tonight when a motor cycle, ridden by Arthur Armstrong of New York, became unmanageable at the Pittsburg motordrome and crashed into the crowd.

Armstrong's back, right leg and left arm was broken. The others injured, three of them women, sustained broken bones, cuts and bruises.

Armstrong was running his machine at a terrific speed.

FARMERS BANK BILL DEBATED

Divisions on Six Months' Hoist and Second Reading Taken After Session Lasting Until Three O'Clock.

PARTIES SPLIT UP WHEN VOTE COMES

Redistribution Is Again in Uncertain Position Because of Differences Arising Over Russell County.

OTTAWA, June 4.—At one o'clock this morning the House had settled down to what promised to be practically an all-night sitting. The bone of contention was the Farmers' Bank bill, the debate being on the second reading and Mr. A. K. Maclean's motion for a six months' hoist.

The division was called at 9:15 this morning, when the six months' hoist was defeated by 55 to 17. Messrs. Duncan Ross, E. W. Nesbitt and Angus McMillan, Liberals, voted with the Government. P. S. Lamarche, Conservative, was paired with Hon. Sam Barker against the bill. Mr. W. F. Nickle was also paired with R. B. Bennett against the bill. The bill was then given its second reading.

Old Government Responsible

The chief speech in support of the measure for the Government side was made by Hon. T. W. Crothers, while Hon. Mr. Lemieux put up the chief argument for the Liberals. Mr. Crothers maintained that the responsibility for the wreck of the bank rested upon the shoulders of Hon. W. S. Fielding, who had been warned that the certificate should not be issued to Travers and his associates. The Government, he said, was under a moral obligation to reimburse the depositors who had lost money.

Mr. Lemieux stated that the proposal to vote $12,00,000 for the depositors was due to promises made by Conservative candidates at the last general elections. He described the legislation as immoral and sectional, inasmuch as nothing was being done for the depositors of several Quebec banks which had failed.

Other speakers during the day included Messrs. H. B. Morphy, E. B. Devlin, Joseph Demers and Major Sharpe, of North Ontario.

E. W. Nesbitt, Liberal Member for North Oxford, speaking at a late hour, defended Hon. W. S. Fielding, who, he said, was not guilty of any negligence. While not in favor of the principle of the bill, he said that a large number of his constituents were affected, and he would be forced to vote for it.

Redistribution Uncertain

It is practically certain that the redistribution bill will not be passed by Parliament this session. The special committee of the House which has been working on the boundaries of the constituencies for some months past held a meeting tonight in the hope of being able to reach an agreement to submit a unanimous report to Parliament. It having been agreed that if unanimity could not be arrived at, no attempt would be made to put a bill through at the present stage of the session. A fight in the House would involve the prolongation of the session for at least a month.

INDIAN POTLATCH

Chiefs of Cowichan Tribe Will Hold Grand Festival for Three Weeks

DUNCAN, June 3.—Chiefs George Halmack, George and Tom Hackle and George Quitquatlin, of the Cowichan Indians, will be the chief hosts at a grand potlatch to be held here this week and for two weeks following. Their guests will number 500, and will include Indians from Saanich, four villages, Penelacut, Nanaimo, Victoria, Esquimalt, Sooke, Nitinat, Lumley Island, and Yakima, Wash., Chemainus, Ladysmith and Vancouver. The usual ceremonies, including the distribution of gifts, will attend this potlatch. The grand climax will be the masked dance in which twenty Indian braves in native costumes and weird headpieces will take part. Chief Bill Quelateselock, of Quamichan, who will be official orator and master of ceremonies, states that the utmost order will be observed, during the carrying out of the time-honored rites, and no liquor will be permitted the participants.

Gas in Arrowhead Well

NELSON, B. C., June 3.—A steady and increasing flow of gas was encountered at a depth of fourteen feet last evening, one mile west of Arrowhead, at Hall's Landing. When sand was reached at this depth through solid blue clay, the gas was released and forced its way through with a rushing sound. The well was roughly capped with a barrel, into which two inch pipe was inserted, and a white flame about twenty inches high burned all night.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Colonist of June 4, 1864)

Fires in New Westminster—The bush fires still continue to rage in the vicinity of New Westminster, and the town is in the greatest danger of being consumed. The fire broke out first in one place then in another, and the inhabitants are constantly on the alert. The smoke is so dense that the oldest seat in the house side of the river opposite the town, and the heat is so great that a great many have had their hands and face scorched in endeavoring to arrest the progress of the flames. The Forward brought down the gunpowder that was in the town stored it in the magazine at Esquimalt, as Governor Seymour feared that if left New Westminster it would be impossible to preserve it from ignition. Should the town be rendered uninhabitable it is hoped that Victorians will give shelter to the homeless ones.

Incorrect—Mr. Lumely Franklin wishes us to say that a statement appearing in a contemporary in this city that he was canvassing for votes for the vacant seat in the House was incorrect.

New Warehouse at Yale—The steamer Otter carried up yesterday a large cargo of sage north, a large quantity of material for building at Yale's new warehouse for the Hudson's Bay Company.

DIAMONDS

As an Investment

United States tariff on diamonds is 20 per cent. Diamonds enter Canada duty free

DIAMONDS give the wearer an appearance of prosperity, which in these commercial times is a big asset to the business man.

If purchased right they are a good investment, as the price is continually rising as the demand increases and the supply decreases.

They cannot be destroyed by fire or wear, and you have the added enjoyment of wearing them.

Our Diamonds are real bargains and the stones of exceptional purity and beauty.

ARMED CAMPS ON IRISH SOIL

Sir Edward Carson Declares That Ulster Is Unconquerable--Nationalist Volunteers Add to Their Ranks.

LONDON, June 3.—The rumor that conversations on Home Rule between the leaders of the Opposition and members of the Government were to be resumed upon Irish soil was picturesque but improbable. The truth seems to be that the leaders of both sides are at the moment sufficiently occupied with their own followers in consultations and upon the results of these the future inter-party negotiations must necessarily turn. The Parliamentary recess has afforded a desirable opportunity for a dispassionate survey of the later developments of the situation in Ireland. There are indications that this has been and still is absorbing the Members of both front benches.

There were some dramatic moments at the great gathering of women which Sir Edward Carson addressed at East Belfast. "Ulster is unconquerable, I tell the Government," he declared, with passion. They may put what they like into the Act of Parliament, but Ulster, in spite of them, will remain free."

With marked deliberation, Sir Edward, looking toward the nurses, asked why they were there, and answered the question by saying they were to attend the sick and wounded, who would be made so because they had been loyal and true where others had been false and treacherous. Then, speaking with characteristic force, he added: "But I do not believe it will ever come to that, for I believe in the manhood of the British race."

Want More Rifles

Referring to the gun-running exploit, the speaker said: "There was a time when I bore many sneers about wooden guns. The reproach is not now that I have wooden guns, but they say to me, 'How dare you have Mausers behind you!' I can only say that this is what I always intended to have. I tell them that with all their fleet and other preventive measures I am going to have more guns."

"We want peace," he proceeded, "but it is peace with honor.

Ordinary military manoeuvres have been resumed around Belfast, but in order to avoid misunderstanding the general officer has taken the precaution of issuing a notice informing the public that the resumption of certain similar manoeuvres a short time back was construed locally as a provocative act towards the inhabitants.

Nationalists Also Arm

While the politicians are resting, the Irish Nationalists are increasing their activities in preparation for any attempt which may be made to deprive them of the fruits of their victory.

"We assume that the bill is safe," said Sir Roger Casement, in an interview, "but if there should be any attempt to repeal the Act and take away our Parliament, secured to us by law, we shall rely upon our manhood to retain what we have won. If it comes to that, I myself will be one of the first to shoot."

Sir Roger Casement's estimate of the present strength of the Irish volunteers is 90,000, only 10,000 less than Sir Edward Carson's army.

While the former is enrolling at a much more rapid pace, the Ulster organization has much more wealth behind it, and has also the promise of thousands of recruits from England and Scotland, if necessary. Should Mr. Redmond give the official support which the Nationalist volunteers are now seeking, there is no doubt but that money would flow into the coffers from overseas, judging by the numerous messages of congratulations received.

FALSE CHARGES OF NEGLIGENCE

to distress him a great deal." This happened in the presence of Officer Fyfe, who is among the rescued. "If," said Dr. Grant, "you make any use of what I say, make this as clear and emphatic as you can."

Continuing, Dr. Grant said that he afterwards took Captain Kendall from the stateroom on the Storstad after everyone else had been rendered assistance, and with the assistance of one of the Empress officers, took him on board the Lady Evelyn. "He was still very weak and unable to walk," he added, "and practically had to be taken and carried to bed. The next time I found him he had fallen out of his bed and was lying on the floor. I again offered him stimulants, which he refused. Upon arrival at the dock I had the captain taken in a car to a house at Father Point. He was still in his wet clothes and suffering from shock and exposure in addition to his illness."

Persisted in Rescue Work

Mr. Hyamson, who learned first aid work in London, and acted as chief assistant to Dr. Grant from beginning to end, corroborated in every detail the statements made by the doctor. He also paid a great tribute to Captain Kendall and his plucky efforts to rescue the passengers and crew. When Captain Kendall arrived in the boat with about sixty passengers to place them on board the Storstad, he said he did his best to induce the captain to come on board, and he noticed that the captain's boat was half full of water, but the captain refused to leave the boat and called for seamen to help him go back to rescue the rest. Burrows, one of the seamen, said: "We will all stop with you, sir," but the captain replied, "I will only keep six."

"I shouted to the captain as he was leaning against the gunwale, and urged him to come on board, but he refused to leave, and again went out with the object of saving more lives. I saw that with my own eyes," said Mr. Hyamson.

Adverting to the collision itself, Mr. Hyamson said that he was on the deck up to within half an hour of the time of the accident, and he was sure that when the collision occurred the Empress was stationary.

tendants overpowered her. She kicked and screamed until she was turned over to the police.

A letter was left in the gallery by the attendant's assailant, in which she asserts militants heretofore have been too ladylike, and adds: "To stop this you must give us justice. We are willing to die for it before we give in. We have tried all other ways. We have been too ladylike in the past. Now, we are going to fight, and you can allow us to be killed. Others will arise to take our places. I joined in the war."

One of the pictures destroyed was "Love Wounded," a priceless engraving by Bartolozzi.

Dr. Forward Assaulted

The suffragettes today again assaulted Dr. Francis Edward Forward, medical officer of Holloway jail. Two women armed with horsewhips sprang on to the doctor as he left the prison, and were punishing him severely when a policeman came to his rescue.

The women said: "Our action is a protest against the forcible feeding for which this beast is responsible."

Dr. Forward refused to charge them with assault, but the police detained them on a charge of disorderly conduct. On October 11, 1913, Dr. Forward was attacked in a similar manner.

An arson squad burned a large cricket pavilion at Earlsfield, southwest of London. Another squad set fire to a country residence near Belfast, but the blaze was extinguished with small damage. Two suffragettes, Miss Madge Muir and Miss Mary Larmour, were caught setting this fire, arrested and committed for trial.

Editors Attacked

BELFAST, June 3.—Militants assaulted today managing editors of two of the leading newspapers of Belfast which had criticised the militant campaign. Two well-dressed women, one of them a giantess, went to the Belfast Telegraph office and were ushered into the director's room. Without speaking, the larger one walked up to Mr. Stewart, the managing editor, and with her clenched fist knocked him out of his chair. At the same time her companion hurled a mucilage bottle at his head.

The women then went to the News Letter office and made a similar attack on Mr. Anderson of that paper. He has since been confined to bed and is under surgical treatment.

HUNGER STRIKE ON KOMAGATA

at once made clear to me that they were prepared to forcibly eject me from the ship if I went aboard, so I did not attempt to do so."

May "Hunger Strike"

Mr. Bird claims that it is quite possible that the East Indians on the ship may have sufficient food and water, but he suggests that it is also possible that they are determined to follow the example of the English militant suffragettes and go on a "hunger strike." He is quite convinced they feel so strongly upon the matter, and consider so strongly they are fighting for the liberty of themselves and any of their fellow countrymen who may follow them here to enter this part of the British Empire, that they are capable of sacrificing their lives by starving themselves to death in order to call dramatic attention to their position.

The fanatical strain running through many Asiatic races is well known, and the capacity of the natives of India for enduring long fasts and physical suffering, when under the influence of religious excitement, is another well-known fact.

Mr. Bird stated he understood that the captain of the ship had been advised that he was in control of the ship, and the immigration officers had only a right to go on board for the purpose of performing their duty, but had no right to exclude other people from access to the ship as long as no attempt was made to spirit anyone away.

Insist on Right to Go Aboard

"This morning they offered me the opportunity, if I wished to take it, to interview Gurdit Singh on the police boat in the stream, stipulating that I should not take certain objectionable members of the East Indian committee on the boat," continued Mr. Bird. "I told them that the East Indians insisted upon their right to go on board, not as a concession from the department, but as a right, and refused to consider the offer. In fact, I believe the East Indians are considering the question of whether they would force the matter by mandamus through the courts."

According to Mr. Bird, the captain of the ship says it is up to the charterer to supply food, the Immigration Department refuses to supply it, and Gurdit Singh says: "As I am held prisoner, I won't supply it."

DR. HERRIDGE IS NEW MODERATOR

Among those who accorded a welcome to the Assembly here is the Rev. Dr. W. T. McMullen. Dr. McMullen's record in Woodstock is extraordinary. He was the minister of Knox Church here for forty-six years and a half. He was called to the pastorate in 1860, long before Confederation. He remained in charge of the work of the church until 1907. He is now the pastor emeritus of the congregation, retaining the use of the manse and aiding in the work of the church. The present minister is the Rev. R. B. Cochrane, a son of the late Dr. Cochrane, of Brantford, for many years one of the well-known leaders of the denomination. A very handsome $12,000 home has recently been completed for Mr. Cochrane by the church. Mr. Cochrane states that, while there were some difficulties in completing the arrangements for the entertainment of the members of the Assembly in a city the size of Woodstock, there were also many advantages.

The permanent clerks of the Assembly state that their volume of business will be exceptionally heavy. A long list of important matters has been prepared and will require consideration. The committee of business has begun to sort these out and arrange them for presentation to the Assembly.

Fatal Gas Explosion in Toronto

TORONTO, June 3.—An explosion which wrecked the lower room of the Consumer's Gas Company Building, situated at the corner of McGee Street and Eastern Avenue, this morning, ripped the roof from the immense generator building and wrought havoc among eight or nine houses on Booth Avenue, almost a block away. Ewart Foster, the chemist employed by the company, was killed.

DELAYING VOTE ON REPEAL BILL

Resolution to Provide for Submission of Tolls Question to Arbitration Is Favorably Reported to Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Just when a vote on the Panama Canal tolls exemption repeal bill seemed certain to come within a few days, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee complicated the situation today by reporting favorably a resolution designed to lead to the submission of the dispute with Great Britain to arbitration by an international tribunal.

There was no discussion of the resolution, but it will be taken up before a vote is reached on the repeal bill, and its appearance before the Senate undoubtedly will lead to further debate.

So far as administration leaders know, the President is opposed to the resolution, unless the tolls exemption repeal bill previously is passed. It is believed by many Senators that without the President's approval no arbitration proposal can receive a majority.

In the debate today Senator Vardaman, Democrat, of Mississippi, a vigorous opponent of repeal, made an impassioned speech, criticizing the President's position and attacking Senator Root, one of the leaders of the opposite side.

Arbitration Proposal

The Sutherland resolution provides for arbitration of the "differences that have arisen between the United States and Great Britain under the 'Hay-Pauncefote treaty,'" in the matter of the payment of tolls which may be imposed for the use of the Panama Canal. It is proposed under the general arbitration treaty between the two countries, which provides for arbitration of disputes not affecting national honor, independence or vital interests at The Hague, or by special tribunal. The resolution proposes that the President "be requested to open diplomatic negotiations with Great Britain with a view of making a special agreement for an impartial international tribunal for arbitration," and for the submission to it of the differences between the countries.

The passage of this resolution would require only a majority in the Senate, but to ratify the special agreement for the court would require a two-thirds vote in the Senate. Even Senators who favor arbitration have asserted that it would be impossible to obtain the votes to ratify this agreement.

turned from the Anderson Lake section. West of that point there are fine sections of land which will be tapped by the Pacific Great Eastern, and the whole road will prove a splendid development highway in that it will render accessible to the farmer and the prospector portions of the Province which are now virtually terra incognita.

Premier Pleased at Progress

Sir Richard McBride, after the conference with the heads of the railway, expressed himself as delighted at the splendid progress being made in the work of construction, and paid a high compliment to Mr. Welch for the wonderful energy which has characterized his connection with the contract, which bids fair to set a new record in rapid railway construction in Western Canada.

Sir Richard added that it was especially gratifying to him to be able to feel that, within a very short time, a large section of the Province, which has been languishing for lack of transportation facilities, will be made accessible to the settler and that the Coast cities and the new centres of activity in the great Interior of the Province will be linked up, to the end that interprovincial trade will be encouraged and fostered in a manner so long desired by the commercial interests of the country.

Here knives came out, and men hacked at the human wall that held them back, as though it were a door of wood. Men went down, and there was no one to give them a helping hand. Beneath heavy berths their faces were smashed to a pulp. And as they fell they formed a barrier which made it even more difficult for those behind to pass. The blood made the floor slippery. At the foot of the stairs death laid the trap.

This, it is said, is what will be told at the inquest. The ship's officers were not to blame. At the signal every man had jumped to his station on the decks, and there, far above, knowing nothing of the riot that raged beneath, they vainly endeavored to launch the boats. The blame is not theirs.

Case of Florence Barbour

The Canadian Pacific Railway officials here are being flooded with letters from every part of the United States and Canada, in which applications for the adoption of little Florence Barbour are made. The story of the rescue of this child, with her winning manners and simple ways, and the loss of both her parents, has evidently touched many hearts, and scores are desirous of giving her a home. Not only letters, but telegrams, containing inquiries as to her future home and the possibility of adopting her have been received.

The company, however, is taking no action at present. First, the relatives of the little girl must be heard from. On their decision the matter will rest. And then it is felt that, if anyone has a claim upon the child, it is R. W. Crillen, who comes from Silverton, B. C., where Florence lived. It was Mr. Crillen who took the child when the ship sank beneath them, and, placing her arms around his neck, swam to safety. He saved her life, and, now that her father and mother have gone, he desires to make her his daughter. As yet, however, nothing definite has been done.

That further bodies will be found during the next few days is the belief of the officials of the company, and it is said that eleven constables, under Sergeant Bain, who have been doing splendid work at the morgue, will leave tomorrow for coast patrol east of Father Point, aiding the five men already there.

Australia's Sympathy

MELBOURNE, June 3.—The Prime Minister, Mr. Cook, in the House of Representatives, made sympathetic references to the Empress of Ireland disaster, expressing the condolences of the people of Australia with the Canadian people and with the relatives of the dead. Mr. Cook said he had already asked the Governor-General to telegraph to Canada to express Australia's deep sympathy. Hon. Andrew Fisher, the ex-Premier and leader of the Opposition, joined in the references of the Premier.

FIRE IN PORTLAND TAKES TWO LIVES

Flames Breaking Out on Harbor Front Prevent Men From Escaping Shoreward and They Jump Into River.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3.—Fire destroyed the factory of the Northwest Sash & Door Company on the East Side harbor front late today. Four laborers, who were cut off from escape shoreward leaped into the river and two were drowned.

The bodies of James Sterling and an unknown Polish workman were recovered. Two men were rescued from the river by the firemen. The loss is estimated at $150,000, partly insured.

A grain dock owned by Gay Lombard was partly burned, but the firemen concentrated their efforts here and prevented its total destruction. A saloon and small store across the street from the mills were destroyed, and several small houses were damgaed.

While running along the burning docks, Fire Chief B. F. Dowell fell and sustained a broken wrist.

The fire is said to have originated from smouldering embers of a previous blaze, which, on March 3 last, destroyed the Montgomery dock, adjoining the scene of today's fire, and seriously damaged the steamers Cricket, Columbia and Glenroy. Huge piles of grain which took fire at that time have been smoking ever since.

tuted so as to command the support of public opinion. The statement of the Mexican delegates declared that Huerta would resign when Mexico was "politically pacified."

This, it is admitted by Mexicans here, implies clearly that General Huerta means to abide by the decision reached in the mediation conference, and that he has already approved the character of Government to succeed his as it had been outlined in the conference.

Mediators' Peace Plan

The peace plan before the mediators is a simple one. It reaches into internal questions only in a general way. Suggestions as to personnel will have to be agreed upon privately. The protocol, which will be signed here, will be a declaration of principles on agrarian and educational reform, and advice to Mexico to set up a provisional Government, having due regard to the interests of all factions. The actual composition of the new Government will be a matter of accomplishment as soon as the protocol is signed, the United States giving a promise to recognize the new Government.

In the new Government would be a provisional President, neutral in politics, a Cabinet of four, two independent men chosen by the Huerta faction, but not identified with the present regime, and two Constitutionalists. This may be changed if the Constitutionalists take part in the parleys here.

While there may be no definite statement in the protocol about the general election which the new provisional Government would conduct, the mediators are discussing with the Mexican delegates certain phases of this question. It has been virtually agreed by all parties that the provisional Government should not be merely a transition one, but a Government that can actually restore peace before a general presidential election is held. For this reason it has been thought best to have the provisional Government serve the late President Madero's unexpired term, conducting the regular presidential elections in 1916.

Constitution Hampers

The Mexican constitution stands in the way of this arrangement in that it provides that a provisional President, fifteen days after his inauguration, shall convoke elections to take place three months later. It is expected by the Mexicans that this difficulty could be bridged by a constitutional amendment. There will be elections in the meantime for members of the House of Deputies and the Senate, and a practically new Congress would be elected by December of this year, so that objections which the American Government may have entertained towards the legality of the present Congress can in a short time be swept aside.

The general feeling here is one of optimism. Upon the Constitutionalists depends chiefly whether the trend of developments shall be for a peaceful solution or a continuation of bitter civil strife.

Huerta Gets Arms

VERA CRUZ, June 3.—With the arrival at Mexico City of the arms and ammunition landed from the German steamers Bavaria and Ypiranga, and, with the receipt of the news that another consignment of arms had been disembarked on the West Coast, there is said to have been a frank display of optimism at the national palace and among President Huerta's followers.

Detachments of picked troops escorted the trains, and in the larger towns through which they passed the escorts frequently were cheered, many of the people shouting defiance to the "Yankee Invader."

Federal Force Cornered

DURANGO, Mexico, June 3.—The Federal force which evacuated Saltillo and fled southward is bottled up at Vanegas, about 100 miles south of Saltillo, according to advices received today by General Carranza. General Eulalio Luis Guitterez, who, with his brigade, was ordered to cut off the Federal retreat, checked the movement toward San Luis Potosi and forced General Maas and his men to take refuge in Vanegas. Guitterez, whose home is near Vanegas, through his knowledge of the country, was enabled to outwit the Federals.

Word was received that a large force of Federals, including many Federal officers, had deserted from the San Luis Potosi garrison, and had joined General Torres. General Carranza has appointed General Panfilo Natora, now before Zacatecas, commander-in-chief of the first division of the army of Centor.

Arrivals from Mexico City continue to bring news of discontent with the Huerta Government at the capital, and of disorganization in the Federal forces. Hundreds living near Mexico City, who joined the Federal army on announcement by Huerta that the Constitutionalists and Federals had joined to fight the American invaders, have deserted the Federal ranks since they have discovered this untrue, and have joined the Constitutionalists.

Spanish Citizens in Tampico

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Senor Riano, the Spanish Ambassador, asked Secretary Bryan today to appeal for the protection of Spanish citizens in Tampico. According to the Ambassador's advices another forced loan of 137,000 pesos has been demanded by Constitutionalists.

Consul Canada, at Vera Cruz, reported Constitutionalists insist that clearance papers for ships for the United States bound from Tampico hitherto signed by Huerta's consular officers must be signed by the Constitutionalist officers in the future.

Secretary Bryan made this statement on the Constitutionalist policy: "Vessels clearing from ports where there are no Constitutionalist agents may have their papers signed by the postmaster at those ports. News to this effect was issued to all foreign consuls at Tampico June 2."

The killing of Weston Burwell, of this city, and a companion, supposed to have also been an American, by Mexicans in the Tampico district about two weeks ago, was confirmed today.

Reports that Burwell was executed as a spy are being investigated by the Governor of Tamaulipas.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Proceeds of Collection at Christ Church to Go Towards Empress of Ireland Fund

A public memorial service to the victims of the Empress of Ireland disaster will be held in Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday at 4 p.m. The collection taken up will be added to the fund in aid of the widows and orphans whose needs are pressing as a result of the great tragedy. Already a large amount of money has been subscribed in England towards a fund to relieve the sufferers through the wreck. Victorians have been invited to subscribe. All subscriptions received by The Colonist will be forwarded to whatever central authority is created in the Dominion to administer the fund.

At the memorial service on Sunday the Dean of Columbia will give a short address.

FARMERS BANK BILL DEBATED

When the committee met tonight, consideration of differences in Ontario, more particularly in regard to Russell County, which the Conservatives proposed to wipe out, was resumed. The Liberals would not agree to sign a report eliminating Russell, which is represented in the House by Hon. Charles Murphy. They maintained that it was now an old seat with a population exceeding the electoral unit by several thousands, and that it should not disappear from the political map. The Conservatives maintained that, as Ontario is losing seats, some of those in Ontario must be done away with, and that Russell could be conveniently divided amongst the surrounding constituencies.

Neither side would give way, and the committee adjourned for perhaps the last time, although it is possible that another effort will be made to straighten out the difficulty.

Death of Noted Capitalist

NEW YORK, June 3.—Alexander E. Orr, former president of the old Rapid Transit Commission, and one of the most prominent merchants in this city, died today, aged 84. He was elected president of the New York Life Insurance Company when he was nearly 75 years old.

Anti-Typhoid Vaccination

WINNIPEG, June 3.—At the opening session of the Manitoba Medical Association, W. J. S. Pierce advocated anti-typhoid vaccination. He showed how the injection of dead typhoid bacilli immunized the body against the attacks of typhoid fever, stating that out of 10,000 soldiers encamped at San Antonio, Texas, all of whom were vaccinated with dead typhoid bacteria, only four cases were reported and there was not one death.

Memorial Service at Liverpool

LONDON, June 3.—Profoundly impressive scenes were witnessed at today's Empress of Ireland memorial service at St. Peter's Church, Liverpool. Lord Mayor Rathbone, Aldermen and Councillors attended, and also present were a large number of shipping and mercantile magnates. Rev. Francis James Chavassee, bishop of Liverpool, and Rev. Canon Harold Ernest Bilbrough, rector of Liverpool, officiated. The relatives of those lost, the majority coming from humble quarters in Bootle and Dingle, had reserved seats in the body of the church.

300 MILES AN HOUR

Opinions of Admiralty Officials on New Traction System Which Promises Enormous Speed

A number of British admiralty officials and other experts have visited the laboratory of M. Bachelet, in London, and witnessed the working model of the new traction system which promises the enormous speed of 300 miles an hour. Among the assembly were Vice-Admiral Sir Henry Jackson, Rear Admiral E. Charlton, Captain Greatorex, and Commander Moore, Lieutenant Spencer Grey, of the Naval Wing of the Royal Flying Corps; Lord Edward Grosvenor, Mr. Eyres-Monsell, M. P.; Sir David Salomons, a vice-president of the Electrical Institute and a director of the South-Eastern Railway, and two representatives of the Japanese Government. They remained more than two hours, and manifested the closest interest in successive experiments.

M. Bachelet, for the first time, opened the box which holds the chief secret of his invention, the "synchronizing interrupter," and explained that by its means electric waves are decapitated, and their voltage intensified some twenty times. It appears a simple enough contrivance, yet it holds one of the secrets of the method by which the inventor has succeeded in overcoming friction and gravitation.

Experts discussed the uses to which the levitated railway system might be put, including conveyance of passengers, mails, and parcels, and the starting of aeroplanes.

"The position attained by M. Bachelet," said Sir David Salomons, "is to electricity what George Stephenson's was to steam. Stephen did not invent steam, but he was able to apply it to a definite purpose. Neither the laws of repulsion nor attraction are new. But Bachelet has contrived to chain them down to practical uses. I admire his work, and I foresee great possibilities. The drawback is the expense, but probably after the initial outlay the working cost will be exceptionally small. You see, most people do not regard time. Suppose your train ran from London to Brighton in fifteen minutes, everybody would use it for the novelty of the trip, but if it happened to cost a shilling a head more most passengers would have the shilling and spend the extra hour in the ordinary train. For letters and parcels, however, I should say the system will be excellent."

Vice-Admiral Sir Henry Jackson expressed his appreciation of the system. "It is certainly very wonderful," he said, "and in its results should be of very great service."

Rear-Admiral Charlton said: "There should be many ways in which the system can be used on battleships, but it is for the engineers to discover in which directions."

Lord Edward Grosvenor said: "The system might be tried for the starting of aeroplanes. I see every reasonable possibility of development in this way."

Mr. Eyres-Monsell expressed his keen interest in the invention. "It is undoubtedly great," he stated, "and a distinct advance on anything of the kind that has yet been attempted. One cannot say definitely where or how the system will be of use. But there is no doubt that it has enormous potentialities."

M. Bachelet suggested to Admiral Charlton that the system might be used in connection with the firing of explosives. Admiral Charlton smiled. "I am afraid you must have friction when dealing with explosives," he said. "We should want something faster than 300 miles an hour."

Japanese Lines to Amalgamate

LONDON, June 3.—The Shipping Gazette learns that an agreement has been reached for the amalgamation of three great Japanese lines, the Nippon Yusen, Osaka Shoshen and Toyo Kaisen.

Newfoundlanders Honored

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 3.—Governor Davidson has been created a Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George in today's birthday honors. Francis Berteau, Auditor-General, is created a Companion of the Imperial Service Order.

Chosen Liberal Candidate

LONDON, June 3.—Lord Provost Stevenson, of Glasgow, was adopted last night as prospective Liberal candidate for Leith Burghs. Mr. Stevenson is an ardent Home Ruler on federal lines, and is a very advanced Liberal. Leith Burghs went Unionist at the recent by-election.

Wanted Promotion

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Daniel V. Jauch, who confessed to the police that he planted four sticks of dynamite in the department of agriculture yesterday that he might discover them and win a promotion for heroism, was held for the grand jury today in default of bail on a charge of attempting to dynamite a building.

Death of Sir Douglas Straight

LONDON, June 4.—Sir Douglas Straight, honorary treasurer of the Newspaper Society, and of the Institute of Journalists, died tonight. He was born in 1844. Sir Douglas was editor of The Pall Mall Gazette in 1896-1909. For a time he was a noted criminal lawyer, and in 1874 was appointed commissioner to inquire into corrupt practices at Boston.

Bank President's Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—George H. Luchsinger, president of the Humboldt Savings Bank, one of the largest financial institutions of its kind in the city, committed suicide today by inhaling gas. Later today the officers and directors of the bank issued a statement saying that an examination of the accounts of the institution showed everything to be all right there.

BUILDING TRADES FIGHT IN LONDON

Prospects of National Strike and Prolonged Struggle—Move Made by London Federation of Employers.

LONDON, June 3.—The building trades war, which began in London last Autumn and will extend into a national strike, a week hence, threatens to become a prolonged and bitter tussle. The London Federation of Building Industries has made a sensational strategic move equaling that of the building contractors by the elimination of the new $500,000 headquarters of the London Theosophical Society, which has been among the works stopped.

The society's trustees have now agreed to employ labor directly through the federation, the latter guaranteeing to supply efficient craftsmen. It, of course, insists that only trade unionists shall be employed, and it offers similar terms to such master builders as are ready to quite the Employers' Federation and accept "the closed-shop" principle.

The financial question does not present any difficulty, as a small levy imposed on the men employed will provide the necessary working capital.

It is believed that this policy will be largely developed and ultimately employ a majority of the 26,000 London workers now locked out and thus provide a solution of the London dispute. The building employers profess to be unconcerned, declaring that the development does not affect the dispute, which will be extended throughout the country by the decision of the master builders on June 9.

LACROSSE CLUBS FORCED TO REDUCE ADMISSION

Tuck and Chene Will Referee Saturday's Minto Cup Lacrosse Match in New Westminster

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 3.—A reduction in the price of admission to future matches both in Vancouver and New Westminster was authorized at a meeting of the B. C. Lacrosse Association held tonight. In future the general admission will be 50c with 25c additional for the grand stand. The bleachers will be free. Delegates were in attendance from the Vancouver and New Westminster clubs and a number of routine matters were discussed.

It was decided to play the match scheduled for June 13 in Victoria on that date. The teams will go over to the Capital City on Friday, June 12. Arrangements will be made for grounds in the Capital.

For next Saturday's scheduled match in New Westminster Geo. Tuck, of Vancouver, and Bob Chene, of New Westminster, were selected to referee. The appointment of officials for the match in Victoria was deferred for a few days.

WILL PLAY MINTO CUP LACROSSE GAME HERE

Victoria will be the scene of a British Columbia Association lacrosse match Saturday week when the V. A. C. and New Westminster teams will play their fourth Minto Cup contest on neutral ground, either at the Royal Athletic Park or Oak Bay. It was announced yesterday that the B. C. L. A. was contemplating a 50 per cent cut of the admission rates owing to the slim attendances that have been had to date.

Amateur Baseball Games

The Red Sox and B. C. Electricians played a 5-all draw at the Royal Athletic Park last evening in a Commercial League baseball game. The game was called on account of darkness. In an Intermediate City game, the Capitals defeated Esquimalt 8 to 2.

It is contended by a French scientist of standing that many unexplained fires at sea and explosions on war ships and in mines are caused by stray wireless waves.

Fire in Ontario Village

HAMMERSVILLE, Ont., June 3.—Fire at 2 a. m., destroyed R. J. Bank's mill and bakery. The loss is $30,000.

Snowstorm in New Brunswick

MONTREAL, June 3.—Snow fell in several parts of New Brunswick today, heavily enough to remain on the ground at Fredericton for some time.

White Wolf Loots Another Town

PEKIN, June 3.—A dispatch from Lianchow, province of Kan Su, reports that "White Wolf," the brigand, has looted and set fire to the town of Ning Chow. All missionaries and Americans are safe, but the Christian Alliance station was burned.

France Annexes Islands

PARIS, June 3.—The French colonial office today announced the annexation by France of the Wallis Islands, in the Southern Pacific. The group, consisting of about forty square miles of territory with 4,500 inhabitants, has been a French protectorate since 1887. It lies northeast of Fiji.

Agreement on Oil Concessions

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The tri-partite agreement between Great Britain, Holland and the United States to prevent "jumping" of oil concessions at Tampico under pretext of forfeiture of the claims took form today as an interchange of notes between the three countries. The three powers mutually agreed not to recognize transfers of concessions made during the era of the disorder in Tampico, and to consider as valid the holdings of their nationals prior to the outbreak of trouble.

Like Titanic Investigation

LONDON, June 3.—"The Canadian Government investigation into the Empress of Ireland disaster may be expected to resemble the British Titanic inquiry very much more than the free and popular methods of the Senator Smith committee," remarks the Manchester Guardian. "Lord Mersey's conduct of the British inquiry was marked by a legal strictness and clear-headed attention to material points. His report was conspicuous for its judicial grasp and businesslike character. The Titanic court of inquiry, however, naturally had a bigger all-round task than confronts the Canadian commission."

Storstad Owners Seek Damages

MONTREAL, June 3.—The reply of the owners of the Storstad to the action by the C. P. R. to recover $2,000,000 for the loss of the Empress is a counter claim for $50,000 for damages to the Storstad, and costs. They claim that the Empress of Ireland was at fault, and allege negligence in her navigation. Reports of an agreement between the owners of the Storstad and the C. P. R. over the bond to be furnished by the former are denied. "There has been no agreement between us," said C. A. Duclos, counsel for the owners of the Storstad today. "So far as we are concerned the case proceeds tomorrow."

Electric Motor Cars

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 3.—That within ten years there will be in this country more than 1,000,000 motor cars costing less than $500 each, the upkeep of which will average about $10 a month, was predicted by Dr. C. P. Steinmetz, of Schenectady, N. Y., yesterday, in an address at the 37th annual convention of the National Electric Association. He advised the owners of electric plants to consider the question of supplying these machines with the power which they will require. Drawing a parallel with the bicycle, Dr. Steinmetz declared that motoring will soon cease to be a sport and that cars will be purchased merely for practical uses.

Troops Quell Riots

PALERMO, June 3.—The troops which were sent to Porto Empedocle to put down the rioting of the sulphur workers who are on strike, and who attempted to burn the town, have got the situation under control. It was necessary for the soldiers to charge the mob repeatedly before they were able to turn their attention to the work of fighting the fire. Five large sulphur houses are still burning. The Government has promised to see to it that the sulphur trade is not diverted to Catania. The fear that this trade would be so diverted is what caused all the trouble.

SPANISH PEOPLE SHOW GREATER INTEREST

Conservative Government Is More Firmly Established as Result of Elections—Monarchy Said to Be Popular.

The effect of the general elections, which have just taken place in Spain, is to give a considerable stability to the Conservative Government, to do something towards straightening out the tantalizing muddle of Spanish politics, and to increase the hope of a much better Spain in the near future, through the better enlightenment of the average Spaniard.

Perhaps the last point is the most important, and it is a good one even if the signs are made in a distinctly disagreeable way. One of the troubles of Spain, or of those who have hoped and worked honestly for her good hitherto, has been to make the mass of the public understand the state and business of the country, and to teach it its own responsibility in the matter of the vote.

Corruption in this matter has been so general that these objects are tremendously difficult to achieve, but there were signs of improvement at the last municipal elections, and there are more now. The franchise is now extended to all males over twenty-five years of age, possessing full civil rights and having been members of a municipality for two years, and voting is compulsory.

Throughout the country the elections this time have been far more keenly and intelligently contested than ever before, and the Spanish voter has shown a degree of independence almost new to him. The keenness has been considerably overdone, for in many places in the provinces there was serious rioting, and about 100 arrests have been made. There was much of this trouble at Bilbao, but Barcelona was comparatively quiet.

The good effect on the political situation is easily indicated. At the elections the Liberals had on paper a very substantial majority over the Conservatives and all other parties combined, those minor parties including a number of diminutive groups who were labeled Carlists, Catalinists, Independents, Integrists and so forth.

The Liberals, however, have been an extremely unhappy and very much divided family, and such were their difficulties that, despite their 227 seats, the Conservatives, 105, and the Republicans, 42, and despite, also, their great ideals and a certain support given to them by the throne, they could not carry on government beyond last October, when Count Romanones, the premier, finally resigned.

Conservatives' Success

Thereupon, despite its nominal minority, a Conservative Government, under Sr. Dato, was formed, and has had a fair success, being better credited than the previous Conservative Ministry by Sr. Maura. At the moment of writing, the final returns of the new election are not yet complete, and there have been fresh contests in several places, but the one great fact is established that Conservatives have a clear majority over the Liberals, and it seems, indeed, that they will have one over all parties. That being the case, a period of comparative political settlement may be anticipated, though Spain is in such a stage of transition, improvement and openmindedness that the future can never be prophesied.

One noteworthy result of these elections is the collapse of the Republicans and Radicals. From forty-two they have come down to half as many, and their cause appears to be for the moment in a hopeless state. This is accountable for in two ways. The Spaniards are heartily sick of a Republican party that is without any initiative and cannot produce any sign of a republic. There is no backbone in it; it is all words.

The new Reform Republicans, who have arisen out of this dissatisfaction, have secured a few seats, but are no power. Then, also, the developments of recent years, by which a kind of monarchical socialism is being preached, and the people are being brought to believe that they will gain more from an enlightened and liberal-minded throne than through any other means, is distinctly having effect.

The monarchy, in fact, not really stable by any means, is doing quite well just now, and believers in the new Spain have cause to be satisfied with the elections. Sr. Dato, the Prime Minister, put himself forward in two constituencies. He was defeated in one of them, but elected at Vittoria.

Courtesy for Col. Roosevelt

PARIS, June 3.—President Poincare is desirous of showing Colonel Roosevelt every courtesy during his forthcoming visit to France, and gave orders today to have the special presidential railroad car in readiness for the colonel on his arrival at Cherbourg. The car is to be attached to the special boat train for Paris. It is understood Colonel Roosevelt will be received by the president on Saturday.

Dies of Injuries

REVELSTOKE, June 3.—W. J. Lyons, of Salmon Arm, died in Revelstoke Hospital yesterday afternoon as a result of injuries sustained whilst working for the Municipal Construction Company of Salmon Arm, now laying new water mains in that city. The accident occurred the morning of June 1. Mr. Lyons was crushed and injured internally. He leaves a wife and five children at Salmon Arm. He was formerly a member of the Orange Association at Edmonton. The remains were taken today to Salmon Arm, where Coroner Hamilton will hold an inquest.

Guarding Col. Roosevelt

MADRID, June 3.—The police are anxious for the safety of Col. Roosevelt, who is expected here in a few days to attend the wedding of his son, Kermit, and Miss Willard, because they have received information that a Spanish-American anarchist had followed the Colonel and got on his trail when the ex-president returned to New York a short time ago. The anarchist community at Barcelona is being closely watched, and the number of detectives at the various ports and on the frontiers has been doubled.

A TURNING POINT

The brief, but very interesting interviews in yesterday's Colonist with Mr. William L. Ross, a Milwaukee banker, Mr. C. W. Rowley, manager of the Bank of Commerce at Calgary, and Mr. Sanford Evans, a former Mayor of Winnipeg, and one of that city's best-known and most progressive men, were full of encouragement, but through them all their rings a note expressed by Mr. Rowley, when he said "we have had our period of construction; we ought now to enter upon a period of production." Some months ago we quoted Sir Richard McBride as saying "we have been going through a period of preparation; now we must set ourselves to the task of realization." It will be a good thing for us all when we get the principle involved in these two very apt and synonymous phrases deeply in our minds and act upon them. We cannot always go on getting ready for action; sooner or later the time comes for us to act, and we think that time has come to Western Canada, to British Columbia even more strikingly than to anywhere else, and of all British Columbia perhaps more to Victoria than to any other part of it. Within the last four years there have been begun, and are now in progress, on Vancouver Island alone, works associated with transportation involving an outlay of something like $30,000,000. When these great works are completed, they will not in the least add to the prosperity of the community unless they are utilized, and the great thing for us all to consider is how we can utilize them so as to derive the greatest advantage from them. What shall be the policy of the community in view of the fact that the end of this great work of preparation is measurably near, and then will come a turning point in the course of affairs?

We recognize the probability that great transportation facilities in strategic localities are bound to attract the attention of the transportation world; but we also realize that the people of this community owe it to themselves to see that we produce at home something that can be advantageously transported. This, it seems to us, is the one thing about which we all ought to begin thinking. It is not "get-rich-quick" propositions that we have in mind. There is not much stability about things of that kind. It is the enterprise that promises only moderate profits, but has the quality of permanence, and in connection with which labor must be employed, that ought to engage attention. There is a great deal being done on the Island that not many of the people of Victoria know anything about. Land is being cleared; mines are being developed; many new buildings are being erected; live stock is being increased; small industrial establishments are being set up. All people are not as oblivious of the desirability of taking time by the forelock and getting themselves in a position to turn to advantage the work done during the years of preparation as the majority of us are. But there is much that can be done that has not been even attempted. Yesterday the new rubber roofing plant at Sidney was described in our columns. Here we have an indication of what can be done by properly directed enterprise. There is outside capital in this business, but there is also local capital. Indeed, it was the faith shown by local capitalists that made this undertaking possible. There is an abundance of money ready to be placed in industrial plants, but when a possible investor in London, New York or Toronto is asked to take stock in an enterprise here, he will, not unnaturally, ask what local people think about it, and if they have demonstrated their faith by putting up part of the necessary capital. At one time and another, the people of Victoria have put many thousands of dollars into mines, and in the majority of cases have lost it. We suppose that a good deal of Victoria money will go into oil, and that some of it will be lost is to be expected. Victorians by the thousand took flyers at real estate, and, although not very many of them made losses, some of them will have to wait for their profit. But there is plenty of money left, and if those who have it will only realize that a turning point has come and that the best and safest investments hereafter will be in labor-employing industries, the community will advance as never before.

We do not know or any class in the community more directly interested in the establishment of industrial plants than those persons who own real estate in this city and vicinity. This property increased in value because of the great works of preparation in hand. Its value can be maintained and an increase of value can be secured only by the industrial and commercial development of the community, by which we do not mean Victoria alone, but all the district that is or can be made tributary to it.

IMMIGRATION

Immigration figures for the month of April show a considerable falling off in the number of new arrivals in the Dominion as compared with the same month in 1912. Last April, 35,532 immigrants came to Canada, whereas, in April, 1912, the number of arrivals was 73,285. By nationalities the former total was divided as follows: From United States, 13,652; from the British Isles, 10,022; and from European countries, 11,738. In April, 1912, British immigrants led with 23,566, Americans coming next with 25,518, the balance being from other countries.

Unless the arrivals during the present year are going to settle on agricultural land, it is probably as well that there should be a falling off in their numbers. In bringing in settlers of the right kind the Federal Government has done a good work and one that has earned commendation in the United States, where a problem has arisen now which may before long lead to a new immigration policy. It is estimated that of the 287,495 immigrants to the United States during 1913 who prior to settling there had been either farmers or farm laborers in the Old World, only 2 per cent went to work on farms over the border. The balance went to already overcrowded cities. Commenting on this feature of the population growth, The Chicago Tribune says:

> They did not go on farms, where labor is greatly needed and where wages, on the whole, average up as good as in industry, because the possibilities in agriculture have been crowded out of their vision. The Government does not take the initiative in telling the immigrant about the opportunities on land. The alien's advisers in the industrial centres, the foreign bankers, labor agents, saloonkeepers, on the other hand, distinctly encourage the alien to stay in the cities, where he is a source of revenue to them.

Different from the attitude of the United States towards the aliens is that of Canada. Canada selects its immigrants. The Canadian Government has agents abroad for that purpose. It requires the alien to go to a given destination. He is even escorted to his new domicile. The initiative which the Canadian Government takes in placing the immigrant on land, instead of allowing him to herd in the cities, adds materially to the wealth of the Dominion.

The question has now arisen in the United States as to the advisability of regulating the influx of immigration according to the rate of its assimilation. Professor Sidney L. Gulick is the author of a proposed new immigration policy, which, briefly, is that the annual inflow from any country be limited to a percentage—not of those already in the country—but of those who have become naturalized and their American-born children. Professor Gulick is evidently not a believer in the Yellow Peril. He contends that all differential Asiatic treatment must be abandoned, and points out that the danger of overwhelming Oriental immigration can be obviated by his percentage plan. Here is how his proposal would work out, according to his own words:

> Applied to Germany, this 5 per cent rate would admit as many as 405,000 immigrants, whereas only 27,788 entered in 1912. From Great Britain 363,500 might enter, whereas 82,979 came in that year. Russian immigration would be diminished from 162,395 in 1912 to a possible maximum of 94,000, while immigration from Italy would fall from 157,134 to 54,850. From Japan 220 immigrants would be admitted and from China 738.

If America can permanently hold the friendship and trust of Japan and China through just, courteous and kindly treatment, she will thereby destroy the anti-white Asiatic solidarity. If America proves to Asia that one white people at least does not despise the Asiatics as such, nor seek to exploit them, but, rather, on a basis of mutual respect and justice, seeks their real prosperity, Asia will discover that the "white peril" is, in fact, an inestimable benefit. And that change of feeling will bring to naught the "yellow" peril now dreaded by the whites.

THE PACIFIC GREAT EASTERN

In view of its very great importance to the proper development of British Columbia the attention that has been paid to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is surprisingly little. Perhaps the reason of this is that the men at the back of this enterprise are not given to "sounding a trumpet before them," but are practical business men, who go about their work in a practical, business-like way, letting their achievements speak for themselves. The great contracting firm of Welch, Foley & Stewart, who are financing and constructing this work, are too busy in the field, to have time to get in the limelight. It is next to impossible to get them to give out any information that will enable a newspaper to tell the story of the great undertakings they have successfully carried through or in which they are now engaged. They did work to the value of many millions on the Grand Trunk Pacific; they have a great tunnel contract for the Canadian Pacific, and they are building some 700 miles of railway for themselves and their associate, Mr. D'Arcy Tate, who enjoys the deserved reputation of being one of the ablest railway lawyers in the world. Mr. Tate has been far from well for some months, but he is now on a fair way to speedy recovery. He was for some years solicitor and counsel for the Grand Trunk Pacific, and as that company had all Canada to choose from, its selection of this comparatively young man for a position of such great responsibility is convincing testimony to his ability. So much for the men who are building this new arterial railway.

Something ought to be said about the road itself, for it is a project that at present occupies a unique place among Canadian railways. The important railway lines in Canada, with one or two exceptions, run in a generally east and west direction. The physical conformation of the country makes it necessary for them to deviate more or less from a direct course in this direction, but in nearly every case the object has been to reach points in the West from points in the East. The Pacific Great Eastern is constructed for the purpose of reaching points in the North from points in the South. There are very few railways on the American Continent of which this can be said. One of them is the series of connecting lines running more or less parallel to the Pacific Coast and extending from the Mexican border to Vancouver. This distance is, in round numbers, 1,650 miles. The Pacific Great Eastern will carry this north and south line of rails 622 miles further, or to the Pine River Pass, at which point it will, as at present arranged for, turn eastward towards the eastern boundary of the Province in the Peace River country. This ensures by next year a continuous series of connecting lines 2,272 miles long from the Mexican boundary northward, the longest continuous north and south line in the world. No one with any knowledge of what is in progress, or with anything like an adequate idea of the potentialities of the North Country, supposes for a moment that this north and south series of connecting lines will stop either at the Mexican border on the south or Pine River Pass on the north, for nothing is more certain that in the very near future this line of transportation will be pushed 1,000 miles further to the North to connect with the Alaskan railway system, about to be undertaken by the Government of the United States, and southward to connect with railways which will extend as far, at least, as the Panama Canal. The Pacific Great Eastern is, therefore, not only a line which will develop great traffic through its own immediate territory, but it will form an important and absolutely necessary link in one of the greatest railway systems in the world. One does not require a very lively imagination to grasp what this signifies.

For the present, however, the people of British Columbia are chiefly concerned with this railway as a development line within their own Province, and its importance in this respect cannot well be overestimated. Passing through a productive country, most of it yet in the very infancy of development, it crosses the Grand Trunk Pacific at Fort George, and after it has crossed the Mountains at the lowest of all the passes, runs from west to east through that region of marvelous richness lying about midway between Lesser Slave Lake and the Peace. It will bring all this vast region within 800 miles of the sea at Squamish, from which point communication will be made by rail with Vancouver and by a car-ferry with Victoria. It will make all the vast area drained by the Peace and Athabasca Rivers tributary to the Pacific Coast. Without it the great traffic that will be built up there would have found its way out through Edmonton. By its junction with the Grand Trunk Pacific at Fort George, the Pacific Great Eastern will give that railway connection with Vancouver and Victoria, which it could not get in any other way. As we regard the situation, this railway is assured of very substantial traffic from the very outset, and is destined to be one of the most valuable roads in the West.

Since the above was written, Messrs. Welch and Stewart of the railway have been in the city, and in an interview, which we print this morning, Mr. Stewart speaks in a modest, but none the less striking, way of the manner in which the construction of the railway is being pushed forward. Apparently all records in railway building in Canada, if not in America, are to be broken in the completion of this line. The great financial resources of Welch, Foley & Stewart have made it possible for them to prosecute work without any delay.

THE EMPRESS COMMISSION

The appointment of Lord Mersey as chairman of the commission which is to investigate the loss of the Empress of Ireland will be received with general favor. His lordship acquired a great reputation by the manner in which he reported on the Titanic disaster. In the coming inquiry there are a number of points upon which public interest will centre. The question of which ship was to blame will have to be ascertained. Doubtless a finding will be forthcoming as to whether it would have been possible to save more lives, and, if so, where the blame lay. Much more will be heard about the safety of passenger steamers of large tonnage, as in the case of the Titanic, and there will be evidence given as to the speed of steamers in a fog, and the question of whether sufficient precautions for safety, under ordinary circumstances, were taken. We venture to think that the inquiry will develop points of much greater significance than were brought to light in the case of the Titanic. There are elements surrounding the latest tragedy that should be probed to the uttermost. Varying stories have gone abroad about the behavior of the passengers and crew, and it is essential to find out what organization prevailed on board to insure discipline and to provide the quickest means of safety at a time of peril. These and a number of comparatively minor points will be investigated by the commission.

The Canadian people will hope that the inquiry will be exhaustive in every respect, and that the findings will lead to Governmental precautions which will insure greater safety of life at sea. Despite the lesson of the Titanic, it has become tragically obvious that still a great deal remains to be done in the way of the provision of life-saving appliances aboard ships. The Titanic sank two and a half hours after she collided with an iceberg, and the main lesson of her tragedy to the merchant marine was that lifeboats should be available for all on board vessels. The Empress of Ireland went down in about fourteen minutes after the moment of collision. Shipping experts will now have to devise some means whereby, in the case of a similar disaster, all those aboard a sinking vessel can be removed to safety in the minimum of time. The task which confronts Lord Mersey and his colleagues is a stupendous one in the face of the conflicting stories that have gone abroad. They have to fix responsibility and devise ways and means to safeguard against such a happening in the future being fraught with such calamitous results, if that lies within human power.

FARM LANDS IN B. C.

There is not the slightest use in anyone pretending to be able to speak with authority concerning the area in British Columbia adapted to agriculture in its various phases. We have the greatest respect for the opinion of Mr. R. E. Gosnell upon any subject which he has had an opportunity of investigating, but neither he nor anyone else has investigated or can investigate this one sufficiently to be able to do more than express a very general opinion. Mr. Foster, M. P. P., has made a rough estimate that from 90,000,000 to 100,000,000 acres may be so utilized. In this Mr. Foster doubtless includes arable land, as the term is usually understood, land suitable for dry-farming, irrigable land, pasture land for horses and cattle, and higher levels whereon sheep can be kept. We assume that he has not made such a statement publicly without having investigated the known facts to some extent. He may have put the figures too high, but when we recall the manner in which the cultivable area on Vancouver Island is found to be greater than was supposed, we are not prepared, and we speak after having devoted many years to the collation of facts on the subject, to say that his figures are too high. When we remember that so good an authority as the late George M. Dawson said that in Northern British Columbia and the southern part of the Yukon Territory at least a million of an agricultural population could be supported under conditions at least as favorable as in Finland, we propose to suspend judgment as to the extent of arable areas, and be content to chronicle each new discovery as it is brought to light.

"The wild women" are growing worse than ever. They want to be treated as men. How would it do to let them have a dose of what this means? If a man should do the things they do, he would get what would be coming to him. It is a fine comment upon the courage of the male suffragists that they stand back and let the women do all the destructive work. They are a pretty bunch of fellows, surely.

And now it is said that the Panama Canal may hurt the Pacific Coast by diverting traffic from the Orient that now comes to the Coast and is sent East by railways. Such fears are groundless. Some traffic may take that route, although the greater distance will militate against it; but, as a general proposition, it may be said that the greater the facilities of communication the greater the commerce. The Pacific Northwest will gain more in this respect than it can possibly lose.

Much interest has been aroused in the small effort we have made to point to the desirability of people settling on the land. Among the correspondence we have received on the subject is a proposal to provide a few free camping grounds for the coming Summer. This suggestion has been advanced in a private way, but it is a step in the right direction and shows people are thinking of some practical method whereby they can assist in arousing renewed interest in the country life.

The Financial Post of Toronto does not agree with the principles actuating the Government in appointing a head for the Municipalities Department. This is the opinion of one man only, and it is worth neither more nor less than that of any other man who cannot have made the situation the subject of special study. The day has gone by when ex cathedra utterances by editors of financial journals carried any greater weight with them than was derived from the arguments adduced in support of them.

QUESTION BOX

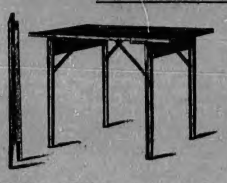

Persons desiring to ask questions through The Colonist, to be answered under this heading, must send their names and addresses as a guarantee of good faith, but may give some initial or word by which they desire their questions to be identified when they appear in print. In case a personal answer is called for, a self addressed stamped envelope should be enclosed with the query.

A. E. H.—Q.—Will you kindly tell me through The Colonist, if it is legal for a Limited Liability Company to issue any of its shares below par value? A.—This being a legal question, we shall not answer it, as it is contrary to the rule governing this department to express opinions on legal points; but if any reader chooses to send in a brief signed reply we will print it.

T. S. C.—Your questions are receiving consideration.

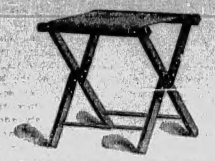

Loyalist.—You are not "one of the Smart Alecks who ask fool questions" of The Colonist. You are one of those who think the Question Box is "an invitation to ask for expressions of opinion," which we once more say it is not.

GUN METAL NOT USED IN MODERN WARSHIPS

Expert Says That Copper, Brass and Metal Will Not Be Found in Latest Fighting Vessels.

In his presidential address at the annual general meeting of the Institution of Mechanical Engineers, Vice-Admiral Sir H. J. Oram said that when the new warships came into the shipbreakers' hands many years hence there would not be found that wealth of copper brass and gun metal which used to be common in the machinery, and which added so largely to the scrap value of the older ships. Although the non-ferrous metals could not usually compare with steel in structural strength, there were many positions in which other qualities than strength were necessary, and these metals were still indispensable. Approximately every 100 tons of steel and iron used in modern warships required to be supplemented by six tons of copper or its alloys in the case of a battleship or eight tons in a cruiser, to give the completed warship her final and necessary qualities. In the hull structure, however, the proportionate amount of non-ferrous metals had not been reduced as compared with twenty years ago.

There was still a field of usefulness for non-ferrous metals, owing to the inability of makers to produce satisfactory steel castings, Sir Henry Oram continued. The difficulty of obtaining complicated steel castings had obliged the admiralty to rely more largely on gun metal for certain parts than the merits of the material seemed to warrant. That being so it was unfortunate that gun metal loss at high temperature so much of its strength and powers of elongation under stress before fracture, but there was the fact that in the British fleet there were thousands of gun metal valves which had been working at high temperatures and pressures for years in which there had been no failures due to brittleness or loss of strength. What occurred with gun metal at high temperatures was not yet sufficiently established, and it seemed to call for a systematic series of experiments.

There was no part of the machinery of ships, Sir Henry Oram went on, to which more thought and time had been given than the condenser tube. Although the corrosion of the condenser tube was a defect of serious importance, many of the worst troubles which the admiralty had experienced with such tubes had not been from corrosion or perforation, but from splitting when at work.

The efforts of the admiralty to effect a reduction in the number of failures of condenser tubes had led them to consider the question of manufacture. Some noteworthy differences of opinion had manifested themselves among the various makers when approached by the admiralty on apparently simple matters, and this fact seemed to indicate the desirability for greater co-operation among tubemakers and greater interchange of ideas and experience from which they and their customers would reap advantage.

Chicago Strike Ended

CHICAGO, June 3.—The strike of the brickmakers, which has tied up building operations in Chicago for three months, was ended tonight. Officials representing the brick manufacturers and the brickmakers signed an agreement granting the men one cent an hour wage increase for those receiving less than forty cents an hour.

Abandoned by Underwriters

LONDON, June 4.—It is announced that formal notice has been tendered to the London underwriters of the abandonment of the Empress of Ireland. Some underwriters were ready to reinsure against the risk of total loss at ninety guineas per cent.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Safety at Sea

Broom-Hill, Hillside Avenue,
Victoria, B. C., June 2, 1914

Sir,—Now the first impressions of the awful disaster of the sinking of the SS. Empress of Ireland is wearing away, one fact is stamped most prominently on the public mind, viz., that a big steamer, having on board about 1,000 people, could sink after collision in about 20 minutes, which would even by daylight barely give time to rescue all.

Should not the Government pass some law to prevent a steamer carrying so many people, unless it could be proved definitely that she could be kept afloat for a couple of hours after having been badly damaged. Hoping you will give this matter your attention.

OCCUPANT OF WOOLSACK

Lord Haldane Is a Man of Immense Intellectual Powers

Lord Haldane, who came into the limelight again as a result of Premier Asquith's taking up the burden of Secretary for War, following Col. J. E. B. Seely's resignation, was for some years the successful political head of the army in the Asquith Cabinet.

Fifty-seven years of age, the first Viscount of Cloan and Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain is the most famous representative of a very ancient Scottish family. His mother was the daughter of Mr. Richard Burdon Sanderson, of West Jesmond, Northumberland. Lord Haldane was educated at Edinburgh Academy and afterwards at Edinburgh and Gottingen Universities. At the latter place he gained his mastery over the difficult German language and his love for German philosophy and literature.

At the age of 23 he was called to the bar, and after eleven years' hard work on the Chancery side, during which time he gathered together a very large practice and the consequent profits, he was made Q. C. in 1890, at the early age of 34. Five years previously he had sought and gained Parliamentary honors as M. P. for Haddingtonshire, which division he represented for twenty-seven years until his promotion to the woolsack in 1911.

Lord Haldane's immense intellectual powers are not lightened by too much humor. He takes himself and the world of literature and, besides translating Schopenhaur's famous work, "Will and Idea," is author of "Life of Adam Smith," "Education and Empire," and "The Pathway to Reality." He has a wonderful facility in elucidating facts and a more than wonderful facility in expressing the result.

He can speak for hours on any topic he is interested in, and at a pace which is the subject of admiration to his friends and the despair of the poor shorthand writers transcribing in his wake. He is still a bachelor and ever likely to remain so.

The lord chancellor, in addition to being somewhat Germanic in appearance, is a great admirer of German literature and philosophy. He speaks and reads German with equal facility as his own language. He is a great protagonist of the movement for the general reduction of armaments.

Both Duellists Wounded

MADRID, June 3.—Antoine Maura, son of the former Premier, and the Radical Deputy, Rodrigo Zoriano, fought a duel with sabres yesterday. The encounter was exceedingly violent, but lasted only seventeen seconds. It ended with wounding both men. The combatants were not reconciled. The duel was the outcome of a violent scene in the lobby of the Chamber of Deputies on May 23. Maura attacked with his cane and fists Deputy Zoriano, who, during a debate, had called Maura's father a coward.

CROPS OF EGYPT SAVED BY GREAT DAM

Huge Reservoir Again Raising Flow of River Nile After Lowest Flood on Record—Healthy Cotton Crop.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 3.—If last year the Assuan reservoir saved the situation by augmenting a low Nile sufficiently to provide water for a cotton crop, almost the largest on record, there is this year an even greater opportunity for service. The lowest flood on record has been followed by a very low state of the river this Spring.

At this season the White Nile provides nearly the whole flow, and about the beginning of April there commences a steady rise which continues till the end of August. Last year a sharp rise took place at Mongalla, about 1,000 miles above Khartum, in the middle of April but this year on April 27 the river at that point was extremely low and still falling.

All possible preparation has been made to meet this condition. The reservoir was filled to its utmost, 20 inches above its official limit, and began to augment the Nile in the middle of February, six or seven weeks before the usual time. Since that date, the reservoir has continuously added about 40 per cent to the natural volume of the river and this supply can go on till the middle of July at the same rate if required.

Reports from the agricultural and irrigation departments for the month of April show that the water has been effectively used. In most parts of the country the supply has been sufficient and the cotton plants are said to be above the average condition. Other crops are above the average in lower Egypt, but below the average in upper Egypt.

Special care has been taken in distributing the water, which is alternately supplied for five or six days and cut off for twelve to fifteen days. This system, known as "rotations," is usually put in force only in the Summer, but this year it has been commenced very much earlier and apparently with very good results.

INCREASE IN DEPOSITS

Statement of Canadian Banks Shows Decreased Loans in Comparison With March

An increase of slightly over $13,000,000 in liabilities in comparison with March and a corresponding increase in assets are shown in the statement of the Canadian banks for April, 1914, issued by the finance department. There is an increase shown in demand and notice deposits, while the deposits elsewhere than in Canada show a decrease. Call loans in Canada and elsewhere show heavy decreases, while current loans in Canada have increased over $12,000,000 and call loans elsewhere are down $6,000,000. Note circulation and the circulation of Dominion bills have decreased.

The figures for the two months are:

	March.	April

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Weekly Bank Clearings—Total bank clearings for the week ending June 2 reached a total of $2,814,073.

Church Now Painted—Messrs. English & Homann have completed their contract for painting the exterior of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West. The building is greatly improved in appearance.

Break in Water Main—A break in the water pipes feeding into the building caused some damage yesterday in the basement of the new Pantages Theatre. The repairs necessitated the cutting off of the water in the westerly half of the block.

5th Regiment. C. G. A.—Major A. T. Ogilvie, R. C. A., finished the annual inspection in infantry of the 5th Regiment with the parade of No. 2 Company, under Major Angus, at the Drill Hall, last night. The Regiment will now prepare for its annual camp training which begins on June 15.

Oiling Streets—The work of oiling the unpaved streets in the city has been resumed following the receipt of a supply of oil from Seattle. A large number of streets have already been treated, and as soon as the balance have been attended to, a second treatment will be given, which will be sufficient, it is believed, to last for the balance of the Summer.

Inaugurate New System—Arrangements are now being made by the Sanitary Department to bring into effect the system of garbage collection authorized for the downtown section. The work will require the employment of more men and teams, and the department will, it is expected, be in a position to commence operation within the next week or two.

School Board Meets—A special meeting of the Board of School Trustees will be held this afternoon, when consideration of the building programme will be taken up and arrangements made for proceeding with the erection of the Margaret Jenkins School at Hollywood. The report on repairs to be effected to the various schools during the holidays will also be submitted.

Civic Golf Links—An early report upon the cost of converting the city's property adjoining Elk Lake into a suitable public golf links will be made by City Engineer Rust. The necessary data as to surveys, etc., has been in hand for some time and is now being compiled. The action of the City in regard to the proposed links will depend to a great extent upon the outlay necessitated.

Insanitary Premises—This morning at 10 o'clock the City Council will resume its consideration of the report of officials urging the condemnation of a number of insanitary and dilapidated buildings, sixty-five of which were recently reported upon and a number of which were ordered to be demolished at the Council's session held last Thursday. It is expected that the balance of the list will be completed this morning.

Roof Ablaze—Sparks from the chimney set ablaze the roof of the dwelling at 549 Quebec Street on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. The roof was alight in several places when the fire apparatus arrived, and the blaze, fanned by the strong wind, was making rapid progress. Damage to the amount of about $25 was done. The dwelling is owned by Mr. Michael Young, proprietor of the New England Hotel, and is occupied by Mr. F. H. Blashfield.

Lecture on Cartography—Mr. G. G. Aitken, chief geographer in the Surveyor General's Department of the Provincial Government, will deliver a lecture tomorrow in the King's Daughters' rest room, under the auspices of the Astronomical Society, taking for his subject "Cartography as Related to Astronomy." A number of lantern views will be used to illustrate the lecture, which will deal with the evolution of the science of cartography from the days of the early explorers, and conclude with a reference to the work which has been done in this Province.

Arrested at Steveston—Arrested yesterday morning at Steveston, George and Andrew Johnston will be brought back to Victoria this morning and will be arraigned for the theft of a cash register, the property of William Johnston, cigar store proprietor, Johnson Street. It is alleged by the store proprietor that he left George Johnston in charge of the cigar stand for a day, and when he returned the cash register and George had levanted. A warrant for the arrest of the two men was issued, and they were traced to Steveston. Detective Heather went over to the Mainland last evening to bring the prisoners back for trial.

Boy Injured in Collision—While attempting to pass between two motors on Fort Street near the junction with Oak Bay Avenue, John Bartholomew, a boy residing at 1133 Fort Street, was run down by the motor car driven by Henry Mildren, chauffeur for Mr. F. N. Rattenbury, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, and severely injured, sustaining a fracture of the left thigh and a bad gash on the back of his head. The lad apparently did not see the approaching motor or lost his head, as he made straight for the car, colliding with it with great force. In the motor car he was rushed to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Hasell and Dr. Houghton. At agents abroad for that purpose. It re- a late hour last evening he was reported

Denies the Report—An official denial was given yesterday by Mr. H. V. Pratt, local manager of the Hudson's Bay Company, to the report that it had been decided to discontinue work on the company's block, the site for which is being prepared at the corners of Douglas, Fisgard and Herald Streets. Mr. Pratt said that, as a result of the false rumor, he received many inquiries, and, in order that it might be effectually quieted, he had wired particulars to Mr. H. E. Burbidge, the stores commissioner. The following reply had been received: "The report that the Hudson's Bay Company does not intend to proceed with the new departmental store building is absolutely without foundation. Work is to be pushed to completion." Mr. Pratt adds that, not only is the work to be continued, but that the contractors are under bond to turn over the block by May 15, 1915.

Hours of Sunshine—Reports received yesterday from the Meteorological Bureau are particularly favorable to Victoria with respect to the number of hours of sunshine experienced in May throughout the Province. The statistics show that the sun shone brightly here during that month for 296 hours and 12 minutes. In Vancouver the sun shone for 269 hours and 18 minutes, while in Nanaimo it shone for 271 hours. These figures indicate that it was an abnormal month in the chief centres of the Province, and that the comparison is strikingly in favor of this city. To a slight extent, it is thought, this may be attributed to the fact that the local observations were taken from Gonzales Hill station, to which the bureau was moved on April 22. The atmosphere there, without a doubt, is clearer than at the post office, where the instruments formerly were situated.

A Correction—In yesterday's Colonist, through a clerical error, the name of Mr. S. Prins, taking part in the Dutch tableau called "The Syndics", was omitted from the programme of the Festival of Art, to be held on Friday evening next.

Suit Against Bank—Before Chief Justice Hunter in the Supreme Court yesterday the trial of an action entered by an Indian named Gunion against the Canadian Bank of Commerce took place, all the evidence being taken. The plaintiff is endeavoring to recover over $3,000, which, he claims, was paid out of his account to his wife (who since has died) without his knowledge or consent. It was disclosed that the payment was made on the authority of a document bearing Gunion's name which, it is asserted, was written by Mrs. Gunion. It is declared that the bank had no right to pay out the plaintiff's fund without having more definite assurance that he was a consenting party. The defence takes the position that Gunion knew of his late wife's action, and witnesses were called and examined along that line. Mr. J. A. Aikman appears for the plaintiff and Mr. A. P. Luxton, K. C., for the defendant.

WAS SOCIAL WORKER

Late Mr. Edward Lane Interested in Social and Economic Progress

The late Mr. Edward Lane, whose death occurred in Victoria on May 29 at the age of 78, was born at De Sable in Prince Edward Island on February 3, 1836. He left his native province at the age of twenty-one for Massachusetts where he remained for several years, marrying while there a Canadian lady, Jane Cambridge, daughter of Cornelius Mabey, formerly of West River, Prince Edward Island.

Later Mr. Lane returned to Prince Edward Island to establish a mercantile business at New Perth which he carried on for some twenty years. In 1885 he with his family removed to North Dakota and three years later to Portland Oregon, and in 1900 he was appointed colporteur to the British and Foreign Bible Society for British Columbia with headquarters in Victoria. This position he held for the next three years and during that period his duties entailed his traveling over a considerable portion of the Province.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane's family consisted of five children two girls and three boys. The eldest Amory, died in infancy, and the youngest, Mrs. Conrad Aubel died in Hood River, Oregon, some sixteen years ago.

Mr. Lane is survived by his widow, one daughter and two sons, Mrs. J. M. Campbell and Mr. O. J. B. Lane, of this city and Dr. E. L. Lane, of Portland, Oregon.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, and was greatly interested in all moral, social and economic questions. When in business he gave much of his time and means to the promotion of the Temperance cause in his native province, and even to the time of his death he kept in close touch with the progress made by that movement in all parts of the world.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Walter Page, of Montreal, is a guest at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. J. C. Miller, Parkview and Gorge Road, will not receive on Friday.

Mrs. E. S. Tuck, of Selkirk Avenue, Gorge, will receive on Friday, and not again this season.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dick, of London, Eng., are among yesterday's arrivals at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. F. G. Norris and the Misses Nora and Nellie Norris, of Sidney, are leaving this week for an extended trip to England.

Captain F. V. Longstaff, who acted as Intelligence Officer to the recent camp at Vernon, returned to the city yesterday in company with Captain A. Bray, the officer commanding the Ordnance corps.

Mrs. Watson, wife of Mr. Thomas Watson, who entered the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Monday, was successfully operated upon on Tuesday, and her friends will be pleased to learn that she is reported as progressing favorably.

Colonel and Mrs. Herchmer, who have spent the last six months in Victoria—having occupied Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Gore's house in Oak Bay during their absence abroad—have gone to their Summer place at Savary Island. Mrs. Dixon, Colonel Herchmer's sister, accompanied them and will be their guest for the Summer.

The charming grounds of Mrs. B. Gonnason's home, on Quadra Street, gaily festooned with many-colored Chinese lanterns, was the scene, yesterday afternoon and evening, of a most successful garden party and sale of work. The function was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the First Baptist Church, and while Mrs. Gonnason and her daughter, Mrs. Dillabough, received the guests and dispensed hospitality, Mrs. Russell, president of the Ladies' Aid, and other members of the committee presided over the attractive stalls of needle-work and home-made candy. Afternoon tea, strawberries and cream, and ices were served under the shady trees of the garden, while the more energetic members of the party enjoyed games of tennis and croquet. During the afternoon, various popular musical selections were contributed by a Victrola, while in the evening an excellent vocal and instrumental programme was carried out, under the direction of Mrs. H. R. McIntyre. The whole affair proved most enjoyable to the numerous guests who attended, and at the conclusion of the evening hearty thanks were expressed to Mrs. Gonnason for her hospitality, and to all whose efforts had contributed to its success.

Health and Beauty Aids

BY MRS. MAE MARTNY

BESSIE—Economy is no excuse when, for a small sum, you can make at home a full pint of the very best scalp and hair tonic, as follows: Put 1 oz. quinzoin (from your druggist) into ½ pint of alchohol, then add ½ pint of water. Rub a little at a time well into the scalp and dandruff and excess oil will quickly disappear. Continued use of the quinzoin tonic will restore the soft fluff and beautiful gloss to brittle, faded hair. The timely use of this tonic will always keep your scalp healthy and your hair beautiful. This tonic is very soothing to tender, itching scalps.

BROWN EYES—For a harmless eye tonic dissolve 1 ounce crystos in 1 pint clear water and you will have as good an eye tonic as money can buy. This is excellent for tired, inflamed or aching eyes, and quickly relieves granulated lids. Only two or three drops are required in the eye at a time and its use frequently overcomes the need for glasses.

CORA B.—To stop gaining weight make up this simple, harmless formula at home and take a teaspoonful three times a day and you will soon be rid of that trouble. In 1½ pints hot water dissolve 4 ounces parnotis (which all good druggists have in stock). This treatment does not call for dieting and is gentle, yet positive, in reducing fat. When your weight is sufficiently reduced, stop the treatment and your flesh will be solid and the skin free from wrinkles.

TEACHER—You ask for a good wrinkle eraser. I use plain almozoin cream-jelly, the most effective thing I know for eradicating wrinkles and fine lines. It is made as follows: At home dissolve 1 ounce almozoin in ½ pint cold water, then add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. After it is thoroughly dissolved apply generously to skin and massage lightly the long way of the wrinkles. This treatment energizes the stunted tissues under the creases and they gradually assume their correct proportions. When this is done the wrinkle will have vanished. The almozoin massage is very effective in cleansing the skin of pimples, blackheads and other blemishes.

GRACE M.—Pains in the back and legs and the usual "Spring fever" are frequently caused by bad kidneys, and the trouble should receive prompt attention. I make at home a body builder and tonic of real value by pouring 1 ounce kardene (from your druggist's) into ½ pint alcohol (do not use whisky) and adding ½ cupful sugar, then hot water to make a full quart. A tablespoonful before each meal is the dose. This gently rids the blood of poisons and puts the liver, kidneys and stomach in a healthful condition, and its timely use prevents much sickness.

FLORENCE—I find the best treatment for faded, "stringy" hair or dandruff is to shampoo regularly with a teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water, which will restore its color, fluff and sheen and so invigorate the hair roots that the hair will come in thick and long. This makes plenty of thick cleansing lather that loosens and dissolves all dust, dandruff and excess oil. Rinsing leaves scalp and hair wonderfully sweet, clean and healthy.

ATHLETE—Try using this simple lotion, which will insure you against freckles and protect your skin from Spring winds. Dissolve 4 ounces spurmax (from any drug store), in either ½ pint hot water or witch hazel, and add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply sparingly to face, neck and arms and rub lightly until it vanishes. The spurmax lotion is superior to powder because one application lasts an entire day. Shiny skins, oiliness, pimples and other complexion upsets disapear quickly, and its use is a benefit to the finest complexion.

OBSERVED ROYAL BIRTHDAY

Public Schools Closed Yesterday and Pupils Spent Day in Merrymaking

Among the keenest participants in King George's birthday celebrations yesterday were the school children, who eagerly welcomed the opportunity of an extra holiday. The sun had no sooner struggled through the clouds at 10 a.m. than hosts of merry youngsters set off for their most cherished haunts, with jam pail and picnic basket stuffed with good things. All day the parks and playgrounds were ringing with their voices.

While, however, the public schools were united in their decision to make the day a holiday, the private schools were divided on the subject. The imminence of the matriculation and ordinary school exams chained many of the older girls and boys to their desks throughout the greater part of the day, the royal birthday being celebrated only by a short programme of patriotic songs and the saluting of the flag. The boys of the University School, however after closing the morning's work with the National Anthem, further signalized the event by a cricket match against the Garrison, in which the school was victorious. The boys of Corrig College also held a short patriotic review in the morning, and spent the afternoon in the service of Willow the King.

LATE MR. PARSONS WAS PIONEER OF VICTORIA

Came to This City Forty-Two Years Ago From Eastern Canada—Funeral Today

The late Mr. Edmund James Parsons, whose funeral takes place today, was one of Victoria's pioneers, having come here in 1872. At the time of his death, on Monday morning, he was seventy-seven years of age. Born in Thatcham County, Berks, England, he came to America as a youth, his first home being in Rochester, N. Y., from where he went to Bruce County, Ont., where he married. After a comparatively short residence in Eastern Canada, he decided to come West, and, as a result, he became identified with the early life of this city.

In Victoria Mr. Parsons first was given employment by the late Mr. Thomas Trounce, then deputy sheriff with the late Sheriff Hariss. From that position he went into the police force, from which he resigned to go to Cassiar, the gold excitement having broken out and the rush to the Interior being general. He stayed in that district only six months, returning again to the Provincial Police under Superintendent Bowden. He left the service to take charge of the circulation department of The Colonist, Mr. D. W. Higgin at that time being the editor and Mr. A. G. Sargison in control of the business department. After nine years of continuous work, during which period he did not miss a single 4 a. m. appearance, thus assuring that the newspaper should be received by subscribers on time, he once more took a place with the Provincial Police. He held it for twenty-five years, and was head jailer when he was superannuated about six years ago.

FRUIT CROP YIELD WILL SHOW INCREASE

Head of Horticultural Department Says Satisfactory Harvest Awaits Fruit Districts—Apples Will Be Heavy.

"The fruit crop for British Columbia for the year 1914 is now practically certain to exceed in quantity that of 1913 by about 25 per cent. Fruit crops generally will be heavy," declares Mr. R. M. Winslow, the head of the horticultural branch of the British Columbia Department of Agriculture. Mr. Winslow's statement is based on confidential reports from officials throughout the various fruit districts of the Province."

Last years' fruit crop in the Province weighed 27,760,000 pounds, and brought the growers a sum of $1,033,000. This year's crop should mean that the fruit growers of the Okanagan particularly will have at least $250,000 more to divide up than they did last year without in any way increasing the cost of the fruit to the consumer. Better marketing facilities to prevent wastage and dumping, and the reduction of freight rates under the recent order of the Dominion Board in its Western freight rates decision are expected this year to bring benefits both to the grower and the consuming public.

Apples promise from a good to a very heavy crop throughout the Province, says Mr. Winslow. A few varieties are more or less off crop, but the total production will probably be 35 per cent over last year. Pears are variable, but on the whole a medium crop. Peaches in the Southern Okanagan will be a fair crop on the Coast and medium to heavy crop in Interior sections. Crab apples a heavy crop everywhere. Apricots will show a large increase over last year in the Southern Okanagan. Cherries are a medium to heavy crop throughout the Interior. Preserving cherries will be a good crop on the Coast, but sweet cherries will be rather light here.

Marketing facilities are, on the whole, in good shape. The Coast cities will consume the great bulk of the Coast production at prices remunerative to the grower, and this year will see much larger shipments than any previous year from the Interior to the Coast cities. In the Interior marketing organization has been greatly strengthened, especially by the successful launching of the Okanagan United Growers a year ago. This organization will have about 60 per cent or more of the Okanagan crops and is aiming at a very wide distribution. In other parts of the Interior co-operative organizations are working with more or less success, though many growers feel that the time is ready for some such organization for the Kootenay as the Okanagan United Growers is for the Okanagan.

SAANICH WATER SUPPLY

Comprehensive Scheme for Area Now Completed by Engineer

For some months the Saanich Municipality has been anxiously awaiting the announcement of the scheme which the Council has had in hand for the supply of water to a large area in the suburban districts. The report of the Works Committee, held on Monday night, which was read at the Council meeting on Tuesday evening at the Royal Oak, shows that the scheme is now in being. The engineer has completed plans for a comprehensive water area which will be applicable to the needs of the district for years to come, and will be capable of extension to keep pace with its growth. It has been referred to the solicitors, and a committee, consisting of the Reeve, Mr. Floyd and another Councillor, will consult as to how best the $250,000 required for the first installment of it may be raised. They will also place the proposals before the new municipal bureau with a view to obtaining Government approval.

The Health and Morals Committee recommended the calling for applications for the collection of garbage, each tenderer to state his price for the removal of each can, and to be responsible for the collection of the fee.

BOOK KEEPING ON FARMS

Dominion Dairy Commissioner Issues Bulletin Urging Importance of Keeping Milk Records

The Dominion Dairy Commissioner has issued a bulletin dealing with the milk yield per acre which every farmer should insist on getting from his farm, by means of an average herd of dairy cattle, which says:

"There are frequently noticed yields as low as 250 pounds of milk per acre cultivated, including pasture, but some good patrons obtain 750 and 800 pounds per acre. Even this is little enough, for there are plenty of authentic records of 1,100 and 2,100 pounds of milk per acre. It should not be extremely difficult to obtain more than this, even 2,500 or 3,000 pounds.

"This latter figure is a long, long way ahead of the yields already mentioned of only 250 pounds which may be found on many a so-called dairy farm in Canada, and is indicative of the possibilities in reach of the factory patron who is really anxious to attain first rank.

"It is questionable if the average yield per acre in Ontario is much more than 600 pounds of milk. If loyal, whole-hearted support is given to the local factory and to our national industry of dairying, the farm and the dairy herd will be made far more productive. Great help will be derived by keeping individual records of each cow, because the old-established, complacent "average" cow has no intention whatever of assisting the average patron to get 3,000 pounds of milk from the average acre. The first necessary step is to know for certain that each cow is a good producer, then one may aim with more hope at $30 or $40 per acre."

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE MEETS

Ladies of First Unitarian Church Hear Instructive Address by Mrs. Barton

An interesting and enjoyable afternoon was spent yesterday by the Women's Alliance of the First Unitarian Church, at the residence of Mrs. Baer, 417 Vancouver Street. Proceedings opened with a short business meeting, and Mrs. Baer was appointed on the hospitality committee to take the place of Mrs. Pratt, who is leaving the district shortly. Some valuable arguments in favor of copper coinage were advanced by Mrs. Barton. She, however, disclaimed any intention of trespassing on the ground shortly to be covered by Mrs. Foulkes, convenor of the committee for household economics, who has kindly promised to address the Women's Alliance, and followed up her brief remarks on this subject by an interesting resume of Professor Culp's recent lecture on "The Happy Child." In extension of this theme, Mrs. Barton quoted several extracts from the works of such distinguished thinkers as Irving Fisher, professor of political economy of Yale University, and Mrs. John Hayes Hammond, the well-known American authority on infantile mortality, giving valuable sidelights on allied psychology and eugenics.

Afternoon tea was then served, following which a delightful programme of music was contributed by Mrs. Baer, who is organist of the Unitarian Church. Among her selections were Beethoven's "Sonata Pathetique," "Minuet" by Puderewski, and Grieg's "Norwegian Bridal Procession."

On the first Wednesdays of the month meetings will in future be held in the church, when the public will be cordially invited to attend and set programmes of music and lectures on various subjects will be given. Third Wednesdays will be devoted to sewing and business meetings, and will be held at the members' houses, the next meeting, on June 17, being arranged to take place at Mrs. Barton's, 1054 Southgate Street.

GIVE OPINIONS ON HALF-HOLIDAY PLAN

Local Retail Merchants Reply to City's Questions—Question of Painting Fire Halls Debated at Length.

The attitude which the local retail merchants take towards the weekly half-holiday proposal will be shown when the replies in response to the circular issued by the City Clerk are read at next Monday's meeting of the City Council. At a recent meeting of the Council, the by-law to fix a compulsory half-holiday for retail employees was laid over after lengthy discussion, which indicated that the by-law, as drafted under the provisions of the Shops Regulation Act, would not receive the assent of the majority of the board. But instead of killing the measure, the Council decided to refer it to the Retail Merchants' Association and the Retail Employees' Association, and to circularize the retail merchants of the city with a view to securing their opinion. It was pointed out that some of the merchants of the city are not members of the Retail Merchants' Association, and the opinion of all dealers was sought.

These replies are now coming in. The majority of them indicate that the merchants are not averse to giving their employees a weekly half-holiday, provided it is left to the merchant to make what arrangements he sees fit for allowing his employees off and fixing the day on which they shall be given the holiday. But the idea of a compulsory half-holiday is strongly combatted by the merchants.

Mr. W. W. Northcott, superintendent of buildings, will sumbit a report on the matter of the painting of the fire halls, bids for which were opened at a recent meeting, but were laid over following a protest from Mr. H. Harkness, who complained that the expense, some $2,800, was not warranted, and that no painting need be done for two or three years. Some of the members of the Council agreed with Mr. Harkness' view, and the superintendent of buildings was asked to submit a report. Mr. Northcott has already been authorized by the Council to call for tenders, and it was under this authority that he acted. As for the question of the necessity or otherwise, of painting the halls, it is pointed out that the Yates Street fire hall has not been painted for over twelve years, and much of the woodwork, following recent extensive repairs, should be painted to properly preserve it. In view of the fact, too, that this year the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs' Association will meet here, the advisability of making the fire halls presentable is advanced as an argument for having the work done. The work was not recommended by the fire wardens but by the superintendent of buildings, under whose jurisdiction the care of the civic structures comes.

No definite time has yet been set for the conference to be held between the City Council and the heads of the B. C. Telephone Company. The Mayor suggested either tomorrow or Saturday morning, and a message to that effect was sent to Vancouver, but no response had been received up to last evening. It is hoped that this conference will result in some definite understanding being reached as to what shall be done by the city to make it possible to bring the underground telephone system into operation by the acquisition of necessary easements for the lateral conduits from the street conduits to adjoining blocks.

FIRST PARADE OF 50TH HIGHLANDERS

Striking Spectacle Last Night—Over Two Hundred Men Turned Out in Uniform at Central School.

The 50th Highlanders held their first battalion parade in uniform last night on the Central School grounds, and a fine spectacle it was. All the uniforms have not yet been served out, but, in spite of this, six companies turned out somewhere in the neighborhood of 220 men. They were headed by the pipe band, and the spectacular effect of this body of men being put through battalion drill by Lieut.-Colonel A. W. Currie, made an impression on the large crowd that lined the ground, the effect of which will doubtless be reflected in the numbers of recruits who come in to enroll tonight.

The ordinary drill exercises take on a new aspect when carried on in Highland dress, and, whether marking time with the light flashing on the metal of the sporrans and the coats of the kilts lifting in unison, or the marching in line of the whole battalion right across the ground, the numbers and the smart appearance of the regiment aroused the admiration of the spectators.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and the honorary colonel of the regiment, Colonel W. H. Coy, were among the interested onlookers and followed the evolutions with the closest attention. It was a cold evening, but no one dreamt of leaving until the soldiers marched off, the pipers playing "The Mackenzie Highlanders." The regiment was followed by crowds of people as they marched back to headquarters by Yates, Cook and Burdette to Linden, where they were dismissed.

Before the orders to disperse were given, Lieut.-Colonel Currie expressed his complete satisfaction with both the dress and drill of the regiment on this, its first public appearance. He hoped that next Monday night's parade would bring out the companies in full strength, when it is hoped to march the battalion right through the city.

The regiment will hold battalion parades twice next week, on Monday and Thursday evenings, and by that time the men will be armed with the new rifle, the latest pattern issued to the Canadian forces. On Friday of this week, the sergeants of the regiment hold their smoking concert. Invitations have been sent out to the other regiments and to a wide circle of friends. What was seen of the regiment last night augurs well for the striking military spectacle which the militia troops of Victoria will afford on Saturday week, when the foundation stone of the new drill hall will be laid.

TELEPHONE LINE BUILT

First Contract in Connection With Sooke Work Completed by Contractors

The first contract to be completed in connection with the Sooke Lake water works scheme has just been executed by Messrs. Watson & Cousins, to whom the work of the construction of the telephone line from the lake to Humpback Reservoir, a distance of twenty-seven miles, was let at a figure of $426 per mile. The contract involved a considerable amount of heavy work, and some difficult problems had to be met, but the fact that the contractors have received the endorsation of the engineers on the manner in which the work was executed speaks well for its quality.

Work was completed three weeks ahead of the time stipulated in the contract, and the line was placed in operation for the convenience of the employees operating the train on the narrow gauge railway. The contractors had the first equipment on wheels to pass along the whole length of the railway from the lake to Humpback reservoir. The telephone line is a double metallic circuit, and connects up numerous stations along the line of the pipe grade. When the water works system is in operation the whole line will be under observation, and constant communication will be possible by means of the telephone. Connection with the Humpback Reservoir end of the line will be made into the city.

Proper Thing Now Is to Peel Off Soiled Skin

Those who abhor sticky, greasy, shiny, streaked complexions should religiously avoid creams, powders and rouges during the heated days. There is no need for them, anyway, since the virtues of mercolised wax have become known. No amount of perspiration will produce any evidence that you've been using the wax. As it is applied at bedtime and washed off in the morning, the complexion never looks like a make-up. Mercolised wax gradually takes off a bad complexion, instead of adding anything to make it worse. It has none of the disadvantages of cosmetics and accomplishes much more in keeping the complexion beautiful, white, satiny and youthful. Just get an ounce of it at your druggist's and see what a few days' treatment will do. Use like cold cream.

Another effective summer treatment—heat tending to cause wrinkles and flabbiness—is a skin-tightener made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel. Its use—as a face bath—saves a ride.

In Women's Realm

BY MARIA LAWSON

MISS HELEN C. ROBERTS

To Sleep

A flock of sheep that leisurely pass by,
One after one; the sound of rain, and bees
Murmuring; the fall of rivers, winds and seas,
Smooth fields, white sheets of water, and the pure sky,
By turns have all been thought of; yet I lie
Sleepless, and soon the small birds' melodies
Must hear, first uttered from my orchard trees;
And the first cuckoo's melancholy cry.
Even thus last night, and two nights more, I lay
And could not win thee, sleep! by any stealth;
So do not let me wear tonight away;
Without thee what is all the morning's wealth?
Come, blessed barrier betwixt day and day,
Dear mother of fresh thoughts and joyous health!

—Wordsworth.

A Novelist

"Of making many books there is no end" is emphatically true of our time. That many of these books are worthless, and that others serve only to while away the passing hour, to be forgotten as soon as read, is unfortunately as true.

Yet, the woman who wants to write a story that is wholesome and clever, is worthy of a place among those who are making the world better and doing service to their generation.

The May Bookman publishes a short criticism of a new story, "A Free Hand," by Helen C. Roberts, an English writer. The lady must belong to the younger generation of novelists, for her name is not to be found among the long list of people who have shed lustre on the name. The reviewer says:

"In her new novel of Sussex life, Miss Roberts is very daring. For she not only portrays a man's character in an intimate manner, but she traces its development from boyhood to middle age in a long, detailed study. It is not often that a women writer sets herself so difficult a task as to compete with the great male novelists' knowledge of the thoughts, feelings and instincts of their own sex; but Miss Roberts is successful enough in her adventure to justify her in undertaking it. She manages to keep her hero handsome and attractive to various kinds of girls, without robbing him of some fine, manly qualities, and she makes him interesting and likeable, without endowing him with anything remarkable in the way of intelligence. But if we understand aright the idea underlying the title of the tale, he scarcely possesses anything more than an average strength of character, and if he had been able to use "a free hand" in shaping his own life, he would have made no great thing out of it. As it was, his mother and his first wife, his daughter and his second wife kept him working in harness as a seaside dentist, and except in one moment of extreme temptation, he stuck to his given job with a certain amount of quiet heroism. To our mind, the unusual talent of Miss Roberts is best displayed in her study of her hero's first wife. The full length study of her hero is praiseworthy, but the sketch of the strange heroine has more real power of vision in it."

The Stranger's Rest

In writing yesterday of the Men's Mission on Store Street, and of the work of the Salvation Army, no allusion was made to the work Mrs. Field has carried on at the Stranger's Rest. This was not because the value of the help that is given to strangers and others in this place was not appreciated. The writer, as well as all others who are in any way in touch with the philanthropic work going on in the city, knows that the Stranger's Rest is all that its name indicates, and more.

Everyone who is in need, whether of material help, comfort, or advice, will receive it from the gentle lady who has made it her life's mission to do good to friendless men. There is ample room, even in our own city, for the efforts of all whose aim is to assist their neighbors and to help them to help themselves. If those who are blessed with this world's goods had the same spirit of love and self-sacrifice which have made the W. C. T. U. Mission and the Stranger's Rest a blessing to homeless men, who can measure the good that might be accomplished?

Mothers' Pensions

"Take this child away and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages." In these words the Egyptian Princess hired the Hebrew mother to take care of her own son. How the world's history would have been changed if another course had been taken, it is impossible to tell.

After thousands of years the Christian world is coming to see that no one can take as good care of a child as its mother, if she is a good woman. In an article in the current issue of The World's Work, entitled "A Home and a Chance for Life," dealing with the adoption of orphans, there occurs the following paragraph:

"A kindred line of work deals with the placing out of half orphans—homeless mothers with babies. Probably nearly fifty per cent of dependent children belong to this class. The work, started in Boston and Philadelphia, was taken up by the New York State Charities Aid Association in 1898. Previously such homeless mothers were compelled to give over to the foundling asylums the children for whom they could not adequately provide. This barbarous custom is still continued in some parts of the country. Aside from all other considerations of humanity it was found that this separation of a baby from its mother meant, in about one-half of all cases, the early death of the child. The purpose of the new agency was to enable an unmarried mother, a widow, or a deserted wife to find a situation of domestic service in which she could help her child. Despite the scepticism with which the plan was received, it has proved successful. In eighteen years, 4,513 mothers were provided for in this way by the association, and were enabled to keep their children with them. At the present time the number of situations secured average about sixty-six a month, and this branch of the work occupies the entire staff of five persons, at a cost of $5,000 a year. In 1913 the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania found situations for 316 destitute women with children."

"In the long run," said Rabbi Hirsch, "pensioning mothers is cheaper than building almshouses, jails and reformatories." Helping them to self-support is better yet.

While this plan meets the case of the woman with one baby, and while there is no reason to believe that in a small community there would not be as great a proportionate demand for the labor of the mother with one child as in large cities, this plan does not meet the case of mothers with more than one child. Many of these can do work for others, but often it takes all a mother's time and strength to work for herself and her children. In such cases to give assistance is the only way of preventing separation.

Is there any good reason why Widow's Pensions should not be introduced in our own city, when deserving women are left with children unprovided for at the death of their husbands? At present, either the children are taken away from their mothers, or the mothers leave them at home while they go to work, receiving charity when necessary. In neither case are the results satisfactory. A widow's pension would enable the mother to care properly for the children and bring them up to be good citizens until they were able to earn their own living.

Training Citizens

There are complaints that the children on their way to and from one of the schools destroy fruit trees, rob flower gardens and injure property in other ways. It is true enough that boys do not look upon the taking of fruit in the same light as the theft of money or other food, and that little girls are apt to consider there is little harm in gathering flowers.

It is, however, the business of the teachers to show their pupils that a cherry tree, a tulip bed or a lilac bush is as much private property as the cups and saucers in the pantry or the ornaments in the parlor, and that to take flowers or fruit without permission is a very mean sort of theft.

When to their depredations boys and girls add insolence to the owners of property, they are showing that they will, if not checked, become members of that dangerous element in all cities which is known as the mob.

Principals and teachers of schools are at this season straining every nerve to prepare their pupils to pass into higher grades, but no lesson that a boy or girl can learn is of as great value as respect for the right of others. With this, men and women of moderate ability and small attainments make a success of life; without it, no gifts, natural or acquired, will prevent shipwreck.

Teachers are responsible for the conduct of pupils on their way to and from school, and parents should see to it that their authority is upheld in the homes. That children can be taught to leave flowers alone is seen in the parks and many other parts of the city where gardens are open to the street.

Georgina Houses

On May 22 the Duke of Connaught opened a new wing to the Georgina Houses on Beverly Street, Toronto. This was given by Sir Edmund Osler and his wife, who has since passed away.

The building was dedicated by the Lord Bishop of Toronto to the "Glory of God and the service of young women." The movement for homes for girls, in which many of the principal people of Toronto are interested, aims to establish homes for girls in many parts of the great city. Seven years ago Mrs. Broughall inaugurated the plan and, after two years, the first house was opened with accommodation for forty women. The enlarged building has room for eighty-five, and provision is made for table boarders. An infirmary, common room, rest room, gymnasium and chapel are part of the building.

This Toronto movement is worthy of imitation. To furnish for the girl students and girl workers who congregate in a city, homes where they can live in comfort at a cheap rate is an enterprise worthy of the wealth and the generosity of the best citizens.

The Young Women's Christian Association, in our own and other cities, has done much. But there is still great need for more accommodation. Victoria will feel this more as time goes on. The opening of the new Normal School, and the growth of the High School, will bring more students here. Every year will add to the number of stenographers and salespeople who have no homes of their own here.

While these workers may be, and certainly ought to be, financially independent, it is very undesirable that they should be obliged to spend as large a share of their earnings as is now required for their bread and lodging in most of the places which are suitable.

The most independent of young women will acknowledge that such a scheme as that which Mrs. Broughall has put in operation, and Sir Edmund Osler has forwarded would be productive of great good.

COMING EVENTS

Y. P. A. Picnic—On Saturday the first picnic of the season will be held under the auspices of St. Saviour's Y. P. A., at Cadboro Bay.

CANADIAN CRICKETERS MOVE TO MONTREAL

WINNIPEG, June 3.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Cricket Association, held here, decided to make Montreal its headquarters for this year. This created some excitement, being in direct opposition to the spirit of the 1911 meeting, when two international games had to be played before headquarters were moved. Winnipeg and the West generally is strongly opposed to the decision of the meeting. They claim that an injustice has been done the West, and threaten to withdraw from the Canadian body. The ballot in favor of Montreal was swung by proxy votes.

CRICKET MATCHES PLAYED YESTERDAY

Albions Beat an Oak Bay Team and the Restorer Cricket Club Wins Its Match Against the Navy.

Albion vs. Oak Bay

The Albion C. C. won their match yesterday on the Beacon Hill ground against an Oak Bay team captained by Mr. A. B. Lawrence by 54 runs.

The Oak Bay innings was uneventful save for the 36 of Mr. E. D. Freeman, who did not receive much support from the rest of the side. E. W. Ismay and Brain bowled unchanged through the innings, the latter apparently being the most difficult to play, though Ismay got the greatest number of wickets. The Albion score passed that of their opponents with three wickets to fall, thanks chiefly to the hitting of G. C. and D. M. Grant, the latter hitting a 6 clean out into the shrubbery, and with the issue of the game placed beyond doubt the remaining batsmen took heart of grace and added another 50 before the innings closed. E. W. Ismay carrying out his bat for a 45, which included more 4's than any other hits. Hughes might have been taken off rather sooner than he was, as both Freeman, whose four wickets only cost 18 runs, and Child were both bothering the batsmen more than anyone else except Shakespear. Both teams were playing twelve men, but the Oak Bay team sacrificed one slip to act as longstop, always an expensive practice.

DAVIS CUP FINALS TO BE PLAYED AT BOSTON

NEW YORK, June 3.—The challenge matches for the Davis International Tennis Cup have been awarded to the West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills, Long Island. The final round between the challenging nations will be played at Longwood, Boston.

Australasia, England, Canada, France, Germany, Belgium and the United States will take part in this year's series for the Davis Cup. The preliminary rounds will be played during July, with the finals between the winners of the preliminary round and the United States, holders of the trophy, early in August. Canada is drawn against Australasia in the first round.

LORD HAWKE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF M. C. C.

Premier Cricket Club of World Confers Greatest Honor on Famous Sportsman

The premier cricket club of the world, the Marylebone, has conferred the greatest honor that it can bestow on Lord Hawke, who was nominated for the presidency by the Earl of Dalkeith at the annual dinner held recently. There had been a mysterious whisper in select circles that a great cricketer was to receive this distinction, but the secret has been so well kept that there had been some speculation on the nomination of the Earl of Dalkeith. No happier selection could have been made. This season brings the centenary celebration of the occupation of the present Lord's ground by the Marylebone club—an event which must be of interest to the whole world which is devoted to England's most beautiful and aesthetic game. Is it not, then, peculiarly appropriate that the chair at the headquarters of the game should be filled by a sportsman who has taken the pastime to the four quarters of the earth, and a captain who was for a quarter of a century in command of the Yorkshire team—the most triumphant eleven of modern times? The club has honored itself by the selection of Lord Hawke, who, while an amateur of amateurs, has ever taken a deep interest in the welfare of the professional. A keen player, the famous Yorkshireman has upheld the best traditions of cricket. There may have been occasions when his actions have appeared arbitrary and autocratic. His views on the problems of cricket in these latter days may not have commended themselves to some of the ultra-modern school, but, whatever his point of view, all cricketers have realized that there were well-considered reasons for his conclusions, and that he has been invariably guided by the highest ideal of honor and an unyielding love of fair-play.

AMATEUR RULES OF THE HENLEY REGATTA

Agreement Between American and English Rowing Bodies Announced —Harvard Enters Crew

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Clement B. Wood, of the American Rowing Association, made public yesterday the agreement between the American Rowing Association and the Royal Regatta under which American crews may be entered at Henley. The agreement provides that entries of crews, or scullers, who are members of clubs belonging to the association, will be accepted on the association certifying that they are amateurs.

No person has been considered an amateur oarsman, sculler or coxswain who has ever rowed or steered in any race for a stake, money or entrance fee, who has ever knowingly rowed or steered with or against professional for any prize; who has ever taught, pursued or assisted in the practice of athletic exercises for profit; who has ever been employed in or about boats, in manual labor for money or wages, a mechanic, artisan or laborer or engaged in any menial duty; who is disqualified as an amateur in any other branch of sport.

An amateur may not receive contributions towards his expenses, except from the club he represents, but it shall be open to any bona fide member of such club to contribute to the club funds.

No eight, four or pair-oared crew shall be allowed to compete if within four weeks before the regatta the crews shall have been coached in rowing, or controlled or directed in training, by any person not considered an amateur.

Under the agreement Harvard has forwarded the entry of its second crew for the grand challenge race. The Union Boat Club, of Boston, has entered its eight-oared crew for the same race and three scullers for the diamond sculls.

NOTED ENGLISH EXPERT WILL REFEREE BOUT

CHICAGO, June 3.—Eugene Corri, the noted English fight referee, will officiate in the Freddie Welsh-Willie Ritchie world's lightweight championship bout in London the last day of the present month. That was one of the conditions to the match laid down by Ritchie.

Ritchie left today for New York, where he will sail for England on Saturday. The champion will make the trip on the steamship Imperator. Manager Emil Thiry, Henry Ritchie, a brother, and Leonard Hicks and his wife will compose the party. Ritchie will receive a flat guarantee of $40,000 and three round trip tickets. Half of his guarantee has been deposited in a New York bank, and Willie will receive the remainder before he steps into the ring to meet the Englishman.

SPLENDID ADDITION TO YACHTING EVENTS

Forty-Mile Race to Brentwood for Motor Boats—Another One Design Class Series Will Be Started.

A very attractive addition has been made to the Royal Victoria Yacht Club's 1914 competitive programme through the presentation of an $100 cup by the Brentwood Hotel for a motor boat race from Cadboro Bay to Brentwood.

The distance of the race will be approximately forty miles. It will be held probably on June 20, and the interest evinced in the arrangements that are now being made seems to assure a large entry.

Next Saturday another One Design Class series will be started by the yacht club at Cadboro Bay. In this the high point winner in three races will receive a trophy to be put up by the club.

As was predicted would be the case, dinghy racing is proving very popular this season. The "class" is well adapted to provide a splendid afternoon's sport, no elaborate preparations being necessary and almost any kind of weather being suitable. It would not be at all surprising if the club's present fleet of dinghies was considerably enlarged before the season closed. Converts to this branch of the sport are being made among the members daily, it might be said.

The Royal Victoria yachtsmen are preparing to enter between twenty and thirty motor boats in the races at the Cowichan Bay regatta July 1.

AMERICAN TEAM FOR POLO MATCHES

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., June 3.—Selection of the American team for the defence of the International trophy was announced today by the Polo Association committee. The official line-up of the team places Rene La Montagne at number one, J. M. Waterbury (C.), number 2, Devereux Milburn, number 3, and Lawrence Waterbury, back. The subs are Henry C. Phipps, of Meadowbrook, Chas. C. Rumsey and Malcolm Stevenson, of Cooperstown.

Joshua Crane, of Boston, who has been the American umpire for two former international matches, has been selected to assist again.

Gold-filled teeth have been found in the jaws of skeletons exhumed in Pompeii.

Eye examinations scientifically conducted by Frank Clugston, Optician, 654 Yates Street (corner Douglas), Rooms 8 and 10.

Moonlight Excursion—Queen Alexandra Hive, No. 11, Ladies of the Maccabees, will hold a moonlight excursion on Thursday night, starting at 8 o'clock, returning 11 o'clock, on the SS. Princess Adelaide, around the Gulf Islands. Orchestra in attendance. Tickets 75c, on sale at C. P. R.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 3.—Portland broke into the winning column today after a long string of reverses, defeating Vancouver in the first game of a doubleheader, and holding the Beavers even in the second game, neither team scoring. Coltrin's sensational fielding and fine pitching by all twirlers featured the games.

SPOKANE, June 3.—Batting Boice for nine hits and as many runs in five innings and getting six more hits off Kraft, which, aided by ragged fielding on the part of the visitors, were good for five more tallies, won today's game from Tacoma for the Indians 14-3. Brottem's home run in the seventh was a feature.

FOREIGN ENTRIES FOR THE HENLEY REGATTA

LONDON, June 3.—The official list of the colonial and foreign entries for the Henley regatta, which opens on July 1, is as follows:

Grand Challenge Cup—Mainzer Ruderverein, Mayence, Germany; Harvard Athletic Association Boat Club, Union Boat Club, Boston; Winnipeg Rowing Club.

Diamond Challenge Sculls—James B. Ayer, Union Boat Club, Boston; William T. Gardiner, Union Boat Club, Boston; Paul Withington, Union Boat Club, Boston; Robert Dibble, Don Rowing Club, Toronto.

TOMMY GALLON

The well-known local quarter-miler, who will probably act as coach and trainer of the V. I. A. A. (J. B. A. A.) track and field team. Gallon represented Canada at the Olympic games in 1912. He recently retired from active participation in athletics.

GEORGES CARPENTIER

The French heavyweight, who holds the championship of Europe. Carpentier will have his hardest fight, according to all experts, when he meets Gunboat Smith, the American white champion, before Burge's Club in London.

VICTORIA TO MEET MANN CUP-HOLDERS

Seems Likely That Skinner Poulin's Team Will Lose Something by Absence of McDonald and McDougall.

With at least two changes in the line-up, the Victoria lacrosse representatives will go against Vancouver next Saturday in their second match of the Pacific Coast amateur series. The match will be played at Vancouver.

More than anything else, possibly, the match will go to show whether the V. A. C. cupholders have been weakened as much as reported. If they have, Victoria should win handily. It was hoped that Jerry Clute and Frank Sweeney would be persuaded to replace McDonald and McDougall, in which case there would have been no loss, but now it is known that Clute is not available, and there is some doubt that Sweeney will be able to play.

The Victoria team for Saturday's match will be finally selected after tonight's practice at the Royal Athletic Park. At the meeting it will also be decided what is to be done regarding grounds for future practices. It may be that the club will go to Oak Bay.

The chances are that Joe Mitchell will be given a position on the home to fill the gap left by the departure of McDonald. Mitchell is fast and is a fine stick-handler. He lacks only in weight. Pettinger is a likely candidate for the vacancy on the defence in case Sweeney does not play.

Men's Own C. C.

The Men's Own C. C. has the following dates still open: June 20, July 4 and August 22; all matches to be away from home. The honorary secretary (address, Congregational Church) will be glad to receive communications from other clubs who can play on those dates.

WILLIE RITCHIE AGREES TO MEET WHITE AGAIN

CHICAGO, June 3.—If Willie Ritchie successfully defends his title against Freddie Welsh in London on June 30, in a twenty-round contest, the champion has agreed to meet Charley White in a championship battle in San Francisco on Thanksgiving Day.

This bit of information was gleaned from Nate Lewis, manager of White, who received a long letter from Jimmy Coffroth, the California promoter. The Western impresario conveyed the news that Ritchie has given him his word he would meet White upon his return to this country, and Coffroth already has named the date.

Jewelers Win Game

An exciting game between the Shortt, Hilf & Duncan team and the Civil Service, City Hall, took place last evening at the Beacon Hill ground. The victory went to the former by a score of 8 to 6.

W. A. Meeting Postponed—The W. A. of the S. P. C. A. will not meet until the second Friday in June.

SHAMROCK IV. TO GO ON TRIALS THIS WEEK

Lipton's Yacht Will Carry 10 Per Cent Greater Spread of Sail Than Largest American Boat

PORTSMOUTH, June 3.—Sir Thomas Liptons' Americas Cup challenger Shamrock IV. will be ready for sailing this week. After her sail stretching spin she will meet her trial horse namesake possibly in the Solent or at Weymouth or Torbay. A month will cover the trials on this side, after which the boat will be dismantled and re-rigged for the passage of the Atlantic. She should be under sail off Sandy Hook, if lucky, by August 20.

As the boat lies afloat some of her exaggerated features seem less prominent than in the shed; others more. The short bowsprit has a decided dip downward. The general appearance is that of a wall-sided American racing scow. The tumble-home of the sides is now less noticeable.

Shamrock's rig apparently will be about the same as that of Defiance, although she may rate higher owing to the penalty imposed on her scow ends. Like Defiance she will carry a single jib. This is about forty feet on the foot. The mast is supported by the so-called Marconi system of staying. Besides the ordinary masthead spreaders, provision is made for several struts about half way down the mast, each to carry a light stay. This system of trussing the mast is not used on the American side of the Atlantic. With it, and outriggers on the hull to give added spread to the shrouds, not much concern is felt by Designer Nicholson for the safety of the rig under ordinary conditions.

The effect of such a rig on a very light hull is a more serious question. The triple wood skin will, however, allow of considerable working of the hull without leaking. In this respect the hull is not unlike a tightly-woven basket.

The topmast has been stepped, giving a total height of spars of about 150 feet. The indications are that sailspread will be about 10,000 square feet, or possibly 10 per cent greater than that of the largest American boat. There is not much question that the yacht will carry her sail if the hull stands the strain.

RESOLUTE DEFEATS COCHRANE'S VANITIE

One Win for Each Candidate for America Cup Defender —Two Vessels Are Fairly Evenly Matched.

RYE, N. Y., June 3.—Sailing under almost perfect weather conditions, the Herreshoff designed Resolute defeated Alexander S. Cochrane's Vanitie today in the second trial race for seventy-five-foot sloop candidates for the America Cup defender in the races set for September against Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock IV.

The Resolute's victory over the Vanitie came after a twenty-five and a half-mile race on the waters of Long Island Sound by a margin of 11 seconds. On estimated corrected time, this was increased to 3 minutes, 12 seconds.

Considering the handicaps, the result of today's race would appear to indicate that the two vessels are fairly evenly matched, for the conditions were equally favorable to both single-stickers. The wind held steady throughout the day, and there were no lucky pitfalls or shifts to benefit either winner or loser.

A Few Suits Are Briefly Described Below

Mahogany Gabardine is the material used in the making of this beautiful Suit. The coat is short with panel back, raglan sleeves, trimmed with cuffs and vest of mahogany-colored Roman satin. The skirt is very smart, being made in two-tier effect, but plain in the front. This is one of our prettiest.

A Novelty Suit of woolen crossbar crepe in a pretty shade of wisteria purple. The coat is made in a very novel style that is both distinctive and smart. The trimmings include collar and cuffs of Bulgarian pan velvet, partially covered with a fine embroidery. The skirt is draped full at the sides with shaped panel at the back.

This Smart Suit is made of brocaded whipcord of fine quality. Color is French pepper, with trimmings of Oriental colored silk. The coat is short cutaway with a vest of heavy Oriental silk, and collar to match. There is also a medici collar and cuffs of fine shadow lace. The skirt is draped from the sides, and is full at the hips.

One of the Prettiest Suits is made of delph blue ripple suiting. The coat is short cutaway with a vest of silk moire. Sleeves are raglan style with slashed and turned cuffs trimmed with full deep lace. It is made with a Peter Pan collar of embroidered crepe edged with fine lace. The skirt is draped from the sides and finished with two small folds on either side.

This Exceptionally Fine Suit is made of rose-colored gabardine. The coat is short with a pretty ripple back, best of figured crepe. The sleeves are raglan style with cuffs trimmed with shadow lace frilling. It fastens in front with one button. The skirt is made in the two-tier effect. The coat is lined throughout with the finest quality satin to match.

POPULAR CRUISES BY G. T. P. STEAMERS

Tourist Traffic Between Victoria and Stewart Will Be Catered to This Season—Changes in Route.

Popular cruises to points on the Northern British Columbia Coast are to be operated by the Grand Trunk Pacific. For the benefit of the tourist the G.T.P. announces that special rates to Prince Rupert and Stewart will be operative from June 25 to July 30 inclusive, by the fine passenger steamers Prince Rupert and Prince George.

During this period the Prince Rupert, which is now taking the Stewart sailing, will steam no less than 1,574 miles every week, and her itinerary includes all the principal scenic spots that are to be found along the rugged coasts between Victoria and the head of the Portland Canal. To maintain this schedule the Prince Rupert will have to steam almost continuously.

In recent years there has been a steady increase in tourist travel to Northern British Columbia, and the indications are that the present season will prove a record one.

On her last northern sailing the steamer Prince Rupert inaugurated the new schedule to Stewart, to which port she will proceed after making her regular calls at Prince Rupert and Granby Bay.

In the future the steamer Prince George will only go as far as Granby Bay. In the Stewart service the Prince Rupert leaves Prince Rupert at midnight on Wednesdays, arrives Granby Bay 7 a. m. Thursday, arrives Stewart 5 p. m., and again reaches Prince Rupert on the southbound trip at 6 a. m. on Fridays. The steamer Prince George leaves Prince Rupert at midnight on Saturdays, arrives Granby Bay 7 a. m. Sundays, and returns to Prince Rupert at 5 p. m. the same day.

Under the new schedule the tourist will be given a full week's vacation aboard ship, passing the finest coastal scenery to be found anywhere on the Pacific.

Leaving Victoria and Vancouver the steamers proceed through the Seymour Narrows, Discovery Passage and Johnstone Strait, passing the Indian settlement and canneries at Alert Bay, through the winding Queen Charlotte Sound, Fitzhugh Sound and the beautiful Grenville Channel to Prince Rupert.

After leaving Prince Rupert the steamer route skirts the south shore of Digby Island, enters Chatham Sound, and for several miles Dixon Entrance is traversed, then sheltered waters continue through to the head of Portland Arm where Stewart is situated, or to Granby Bay on Observatory Inlet.

The Portland Canal is the most northerly inlet on the Coast of British Columbia. This waterway is about fifty-five miles long, the shores being most picturesque, and at times rising to the height of 6,000 feet. On this route many British Columbia and Alaskan glaciers are visible from the deck of the steamer.

Stewart is a new town, and the headquarters for the newest mining field. Like all new Western towns, everyone is working to accommodate the incoming population, and the miner or the tourist will find that the place is not lacking in its elements of interest.

Yacht Santa Maria Reports Eventful Trip Out From United Kingdom

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 3.—A tale of mutiny and storm was brought by the little yacht Santa Maria here today, en route to Vancouver from Southampton. The vessel sailed from England February 14, and ran into a series of storms that culminated in a four-day snowstorm in the Straits of Magellan. The yacht was driven ashore, but was got off badly damaged.

The crew of thirteen mutinied at the port of Coronel, on the ground that the boat had been overloaded with coal. This was quickly suppressed, and the Santa Maria is finishing the last leg of her 15,000-mile trip with better luck.

The Santa Maria is on her way out from the Old Country to enter the service of the All-Red Steamship Company, of Vancouver. After taking on a supply of coal here she will steam for the northern port, and will probably be three days running up the Coast.

TO PREVENT COLLISIONS

The Imperial Merchant Service Guild have been invited by the British Board of Trade to consider several important suggestions concerning alterations to articles 2, 10, 14, 15 and 31 of the International Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea. These suggestions include the making of a second mast-head light compulsory; the provision of a fixed stern light; a special signal for motor vessels proceeding under sail and mechanical power simultaneously; a suitable sound signal for a vessel in tow, or for the last vessel of the tow, and an addition to the distress signals by the inclusion of the radio-telegraph distress signal. The Board of Trade have requested the views of the Imperial Merchant Service Guild, which represents approximately seventy-five per cent of the total British captains and officers, to send a representative to discuss the matter with the Board of Trade at Whitehall.

SAXONIA IS SOON TO CROSS PACIFIC

Hamburg-American Liner Previously Ashore, Will Bring Cargo of Sambia to North Pacific Coast.

Agents of the Hamburg-American Line have been advised that the cargo which was in the holds of the liner Sambia when she went ashore recently at Shado Island, near Hongkong, escaped damage and will be brought to Victoria and other Pacific Coast ports by the steamship Saxonia. The Saxonia is scheduled to arrive at this port from the Orient about July 20.

The Saxonia also had a mishap in the Orient, when she went aground in February off Tsingtau. She has been repaired at Nagasaki, and will come on here from Japan.

According to word received here, the Sambia has been taken to Tsingtau for repairs.

These are the first accidents to Hamburg-American liners in the Orient, since they began plying regularly from Hamburg to the North Pacific, and, luckily, both proved to be minor ones. The Saxonia was on her second, and the Sambia on her first, trip in the service.

While in Europe the Hamburg-American liner Andalusia was forced to undergo repairs, made necessary through a mishap when on her last homeward voyage from this Coast.

Steam Yacht Santa

This fine vessel, which formerly belonged to Lord Hartswell, is now completing a 15,000-mile voyage from Southampton to Victoria. She put in at San Francisco yesterday to replenish her bunkers and is expected to make William Head this week-end. The Santa Maria was purchased by the All-Red Line, of Vancouver, and will be operated in the passenger trade on this Coast.

THE UNSINKABLE SHIP

Expert Says It Can Be Built, But Would Be of Little Use

MONTREAL, June 3.—Mr. G. B. Hunter, of the transatlantic and Dreadnought shipbuilding firm of Swan, Hunter, Wigan, Richardson & Co., of the Clyde and Tyne, who is in Montreal, was asked today if it would be possible to build an unsinkable ship. He said:

"An unsinkable ship can be built all right, but she would be little or no use as a carrier. She would be absolutely no use at all for freight, and very little good as a passenger ship."

Speaking of the ramming of the Empress of Ireland, Mr. Hunter said it was no doubt a slanting break, similar to the sinking of the Titanic.

"I did think," added the experienced builder, "that the Titanic would not sink, but you see I was mistaken, and that is all there is about it."

TAMBA MARU REPORTS FINE PASSAGE HERE

Captain S. Nagasue Succeeds Captain Teranaka, Who Has Been Given Command of European Liner Miyazaki Maru

With a new skipper on the bridge, in the person of Captain S. Nagasue, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Tamba Maru, on her forty-first inward voyage, reached ports yesterday afternoon after a fifteen-day passage from Yokohama. Captain Nagasue replaces Captain Teranaka, who has been promoted to a ship in the European service.

The former master of the Tamba Maru has been given the command of the Japanese liner Miyazaki Maru, and will leave Yokohama in charge of that vessel on June 17 for London.

The new captain of the Tamba Maru is no stranger to the transpacific service, as, eleven years ago he was operating to this Coast as fourth officer of the N. Y. K. liner Shinano Maru.

Captain Nagasue reports a splendid voyage from the Orient. Fair winds and fine weather marked the whole of the trip and the vessel was enabled to make better steaming time than usual.

The Tamba Maru brought 32 cabin, 21 second-class and 200 steerage passengers. The cabin passengers who disembarked at this port were: Mr. W. E. Montgomery, a missionary returning from Formosa, accompanied by Mrs. Montgomery and child; Mr. Y. Takeda, chancellor of the Imperial Japanese consulate-general at Ottawa, accompanied by Mrs. Takeda; Mr. J. M. Irving, and Mr. C. Robertson. Two returning Chinese and 78 Japanese steerage passengers came ashore here, all being destined for the Mainland. The liner brought about 3,000 tons of Oriental cargo, and while at this port discharged 246 tons. She cleared about 4 p.m. for Seattle.

FIRST SIGNS ABOVE SURFACE THIS MONTH

Submarine Work on Breakwater Is Now Within Few Feet of Surface at Shore End

Such satisfactory progress is being made on the construction of the Ogden Point breakwater that the engineers are now satisfied that the first visible signs of the mammoth undertaking will be seen above low water mark by the end of the present month or the early part of July.

For several months past the slow work of laying the huge granite blocks, forming the seaward side of the great wall, has been going on under the supervision of divers, and slowly but surely the courses have been mounting up until, at the present time, the top course inshore is only a comparatively few feet from the surface at low water. These blocks, which weigh anywhere from five to fifteen tons, are being lowered into position by means of a powerful crane operated from a scow moored close inshore.

The submarine work is being carried on shorewards from the first bend of the breakwater, and the granite blocks are being laid, course by course, in the direction of Ogden Point.

The heavy weather of the past few days has considerably delayed operations, and yesterday the breeze was so strong that the work was brought completely to a standstill.

The granite is not arriving from Hardy Island as fast as the engineers would like, but with more settled weather conditions the shipments will arrive on the site more frequently.

Many of the craft engaged on the breakwater contract have been compelled to seek shelter from the gale.

Radnorshire Passes Out After Returning to Replenish Her Bunker Supply

For the second time the Royal Mail liner Radnorshire put to sea yesterday for London via the Orient. EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS CELEBRATION AT LOURDES

Special arrangements have been made in connection with the sailing of the new palatial Allan Line steamship, ALSATIAN, from Quebec, Thursday, July 2nd, for the accommodation of a party attending the Eucharistic Congress at Lourdes.

Reservations may be made through any Railway or Steamship Agent, who will be pleased to supply full information. The travel arrangements are being looked after by Messrs. Hone & Rivet, of Montreal.

Excellent train arrangements, as well as arrangements for the accommodation on board the steamer, have been made by the Allan Line. Two special trains will run from Montreal to alongside the steamer at Quebec. The first train will leave at 8:30 p.m., the day before the sailing date, and passengers by this train will go directly on board the steamer on arrival for breakfast. The second train will leave Montreal at 10 o'clock on the morning of the sailing day.

YARROWS' BUSY WITH REPAIR CONTRACTS

Number of Ships Were Handled by Esquimalt Firm During the Past Month—Ways Are Continually Occupied.

During the past month much repair work has been carried out at the Esquimalt yards of Yarrows, Limited. The lengthening of the C. P. R. steamer Princess May was completed, and she has since been delivered over to her owners. While the alterations were under way at the Yarrow yards, the vessel was fitted with an oil-burning installation. The whole of the C. P. R. coast fleet are now fitted as oil-burners, with the exception of the wooden steamer Princess Royal.

The triangular route steamers, Princess Victoria and Princess Charlotte, were also among the vessels handled by the Esquimalt concern. Both vessels were given their annual overhauling, and are now in the best of shape for the heavy season ahead.

The William Head quarantine tender Madge has been overhauled, and the C. P. R. steamer Queen City and tugboat Nanoose also came in for attention. The C. P. R. steamer Princess Adelaide has been overhauled, and the freight steamer Grainer underwent extensive repairs.

The C. G. S. Petrel, which belongs to the Department of Dredges, is at present being converted into an oil-burner, and sundry other work is in hand.

MARKET IRREGULAR AND TRADING LIGHT

Some Signs of Improvement Towards Close of Session—Crop Forecasts and Trade Reports Favorable.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Slow progress upward was made today in the market. Trading was in smaller volume, and the signs of reviving life yesterday failed to show themselves today. The significant feature was the cessation of professional pressure and outside liquidation. The market was irregular, and after moving back and forth within a narrow range, developed signs of strength toward the close. Fluctuations in the main were measured in fractions, but in a considerable number of cases, substantial gains were recorded at the close.

New Haven and Lehigh Valley made a better showing today. New Haven ended the day with an advance of nearly two points. Lehigh Valley fell back two points to 134½, the lowest in several weeks.

Speculative sentiment was cheered by favoring crop forecasts from private sources, as well as by the improved showing of the railroads in the April returns as compared with the preceding months. Optimistic reports recently from the steel trade were supported by the weekly reviews of trade authorities, which emphasized the large buying of pig iron and signs of a better inquiry for steel products.

Most of the speculative bonds were in good demand, but in a few cases heaviness developed, which gave the market a ragged appearance. Rock Island collaterals were under pressure. Several convertible issues, particularly Atchison and Telephone, rose strongly. Total sales, par value, $2,700,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

LONDON EXCHANGE

LONDON, June 3.—The market was weak today and closed above the lowest of the day. Canadians were neglected. The interest in the Alberta oil strike is evaporating. The newspapers here advise investors against the support of Calgary flotations, unless they are backed by the best Canadian names.

Canadian Pacific was quiet to fractionally easier, closing at 198¼. Grand Trunks were sold at declines of ¼ to ⅝, compared with Tuesday, owing to the traffic decrease being larger than expected. Hudson's Bay closed at 9½.

The news from Mexico again depressed South American tractions, despite the general approval given to the Brazilian traction report.

A loan for $3,500,000 by the City of Regina is in preparation and will shortly be floated.

American securities opened quiet and with practically no change over yesterday's close. A brief period of buying caused a slight upward movement, but there was a recession later, the market becoming dull and closing quiet. Consols closed 3-16 lower at 74 for money and 74 3-16 for account.

A continuance of the continental demand for gold was evident. No improvement in the general situation is expected until this ceases. Except for this, money was easy enough, but the public was not strongly in the market.

GRAIN MARKETS

WINNIPEG, June 3.—There was no official market today, but trade was active on the curb, which opened ¼ to ⅜ lower. Oats ⅛ lower and flax unchanged.

American markets had a strong tone in all lines, and cables, though weaker than expected at the opening, closed at an advance.

Encouraging reports are coming to hand from Western Canada as to crop conditions, and the forecast is for thunderstorms, generally in Northern Saskatchewan. Flax was fairly active and made some advance both in Winnipeg and Duluth.

There was a good cash demand for all lines, but little offering, and export bids are just about in line.

Receipts were 110 cars inspected and 200 in sight.

Cables closed, Liverpool ¼ to ⅜ higher; Paris, ⅛ up; Berlin, ⅛ up; Budapest, 2⅛ higher; Antwerp, unchanged.

WORLD'S LONGEST TUNNEL

Rapid Progress Being Made on the New Simplon, Which Is Costing Nearly $7,000,000

The longest tunnel in the world is now assuming shape in the heart of the Alps. If the present rate of progress is maintained one-half of the total length of 12 miles 588 yards should be completed by the end of the present year. The work was commenced at the end of December, 1912.

This tunnel, which is known as the Second Simplon Tunnel, is being constructed by the engineers of the Swiss Federal Railways to cope with the remarkable growth of tourist and goods traffic on the Simplon route. It runs parallel to the existing tunnel, and is being made by an enlargement of the parallel working gallery made by the engineers of the former tunnel. The cost is estimated at $6,920,000.

Apart from the use of explosives for blasting, compressed air is the sole power in use within the workings. The rock drills are operated by air, and the excavated material is drawn away by locomotives driven by air under a pressure of between 130 and 190 atmospheres.

One of the features of the tunnel, according to a Swiss correspondent of The Engineer, is the adoption for the dry portions of the tunnel of a masonry lining of artificial stone instead of the natural stone hitherto employed in Alpine tunnelling. This artificial stone is composed of cement, limestone and sandstone, and is being made at the Brigue end of the tunnel. The correspondent suggests that this new departure, which was strongly opposed at first, was influenced by the success with which composition stone and ordinary bricks have been used in England. The work of lining is stated to have been simplified by this new practice.

The nature of the rock at the northern end of the tunnel is stated to necessitate an immediate lining of the excavated portion, and timbering is being freely used to resist the immense pressure. No blasting is permitted during the passage of a train through the original Simplon tunnel, as the distance between the tunnel and the heading is only twenty-six feet. The risk involved upon the first tunnel is stated to have been estimated at $600,000.

The first Simplon tunnel, it may be remembered, was constructed by the Swiss firm of Brandt, Brandau, and extraordinary precautions were taken for protecting the health and lives of the workmen. The precautions, however, were justified by the results, and a singularly difficult piece of engineering was carried through with a marked absence of illness. The necessity for a parallel gallery for ventilation and drainage purposes made the progress with the original Simplon tunnel less rapid than that now taking place.

The first Alpine tunnel, the Mont Cenis, is seven and a half miles long, and took over thirteen years to construct. The St. Gothard, nine and three-quarter miles long, took nine and three-quarter years; the Arlberg, six and one quarter miles long, three years; the Simplon, twelve and one-quarter miles long, six and one-half years; and the Lotschberg, nine miles long, four years. At the present rate of progress Simplon II. should be completed in about four and one-half years.

Saxony has 33,555 enterprises, employing 487,800 male workers.

A Polish scientist is the inventor of a motion-picture camera which can be carried in the hand and which is operated by compressed air as long as a button is pressed.

The number of persons killed by lightning in the United States during a year averages nearly 600; about 4,000 cattle are killed and annual damage by lightning is $3,000,000.

A report of the Interstate Commerce Commission gives 1,699,213 as the total number of men and women employed by the steam railways of the United States.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Between:
James Shaw Milne and Mary Elizabeth Milne, Plaintiffs,
And
Myrtle Effel Small, Defendant.

To the above named Defendant, Myrtle Effel Small.

TAKE NOTICE that this action was on the 16th day of January, 1914, commenced against you and that the Plaintiffs, by their writ of summons, claim to recover the sum of fifteen hundred and forty-three dollars and sixty-seven cents ($1,543.67), being owing and in arrear under an agreement dated the 12th day of February, 1913, made between the Plaintiffs as vendors and the Defendant as purchaser for the sale of all and singular that certain parcel or track of land situate, lying and being in the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia, and known and described as Lot one thousand three hundred and forty-eight (1348), Block forty-six (46), Victoria City, and subsequent interest from the 10th day of October, 1913, to the date of foreclosure, and the costs of this action. And the Plaintiffs also claim in this action to foreclosure according to the practice of this court all the interest, right, title and estate of the Defendant in the said lands and premises under the said agreement, and that all necessary accounts be taken, and the Plaintiffs further claim that in the event of the foreclosure of the Defendant's interest in the said lands, that registration of the hereinbefore mentioned agreement of sale in the Land Registry Office, at the City of Victoria, be cancelled.

AND TAKE NOTICE that the court has by order dated the 13th day of May, 1914, authorized service of the said writ of summons on you by the insertion of this notice once in a daily newspaper of the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that you are required within ten days after the insertion of this advertisement, inclusive of the day of such insertion, to cause an appearance to be entered for you at the office of the Registrar of this honorable court at the said City of Victoria, and that in default of your so doing the Plaintiff may proceed with this action and judgment may be given against you in your absence.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

In the Matter of the "Quieting Titles Act,"
AND
In the Matter of Lot 569A Victoria City, B. C., as shown upon the Official Map or Plan of Subdivision of Beckley Farm, Dated 7th day of January, 1863.

TAKE NOTICE that Henry Paxton, of the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia, has applied to this court for a declaration of title under the provisions of the "Quieting Titles Act," over Lot 569A, Victoria City, and the petition of the said Henry Paxton having come on for hearing on Monday, the 18th day of May, A. D., 1914, before the Honorable Mr. Justice Clement, it was ordered that the petition herein be referred to Mr. A. P. Luxton, K. C., as referee, to proceed with the investigation of the title to the said lands, with the same powers in that behalf as an Honorable Judge of this Court, and it was ordered that the finding of the said Referee should be binding on all parties, and that notice of this order be published once in The British Columbia Gazette, and for a period of two weeks in a daily newspaper published in the City of Victoria:

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that any person having any title or interest in the said lands, or any part thereof, is required to file a statement of his claim with Mr. Luxton, K. C., Referee aforesaid, within two weeks from the date of the first insertion of this notice to said newspaper, being the 25th day of June, A. D., 1914.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that on the 28th day of June, A.D., 1914, the petition of Henry Paxton herein for an order under the "Quieting Titles Act," R. S. B. C., 1911, Chapter 192, that he is the legal and beneficial owner in fee simple in possession of Lot 569A, Victoria City, as shown upon the official May of Plan of Subdivision of Beckley Farm, dated the 7th day of January, 1863, subject to the reservations mentioned in Section 23 of the said Act, and there numbered respectively A, B, C, and D, but free from all other rights, interests, claims and demands whatsoever, will come on for hearing before the aforesaid Referee.

Dated at Victoria, B. C., this 26th day of May, A. D., 1914.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE

Court of Appeal

The court announced, without reading the written reasons, the result in the following appeals:

Hammond v. Daykin and Jackson, an appeal from Calder, Co.J., who nonsuited the plaintiff at the trial of an action on a contract for 600 tons of hay. The appeal was allowed, Martin, J.A., dissenting.

Carter, Dewar, Crowe Co. v. Columbia Bitulithic Co., an appeal from Schultz Co.J. The appeal was allowed.

Thompson v. Columbia Coast Mission, an appeal by defendant from the judgment of Macdonald, J., was allowed.

McKinnon v. Lewthwaite, an appeal from an order made by Murphy, J., was allowed, Martin and McPhillips, JJ.A., dissenting.

Vancouver Machinery Co. v. Vancouver Timber & Trading Company, an appeal from Murphy, J., who gave judgment in favor of the defendant company. The appeal was allowed.

Creveling v. Canada Bridge Company, an appeal by defendant company from the judgment of Murphy, J., in a damage action for personal injuries. A new trial was ordered under the Employers' Liability Act.

Airey v. Empire Shipping Co., an appeal by plaintiff from the judgment of Murphy, J., in an action claiming damages for injuries sustained while in defendant company's employment. A new trial was ordered, Irving, J. A., dissenting.

Alberta Pacific G. Co. v. Merchants' Cartage Co., an appeal from the judgment of Grant, Co.J., was dismissed.

Nicholai v. Dominion Express Co., an appeal by defendant company for damages to plans entrusted to defendant company. The judgment was reduced to $300.

Ellis v. British Columbia Electric Railway Co., an appeal by defendant company from the judgment of Macdonald, J., in an action for damages under the Families Compensation Act, was dismissed.

Huynezack v. British Columbia Electric Railway Co., an appeal by defendant company from the judgment of Macdonald, J., and the verdict of a jury, was allowed.

Kawasaki v. Leong Suey, an appeal by defendant from the judgment of Hunter, C.J.B.C., in an action for specific performance of a contract, was dismissed.

Naap v. Smith: Appeal by defendant from the judgment of Hunter, C.J.B.C., at the trial, in Vancouver, on the 31st day of October, 1913, in an action on a bill of sale for $3,000 as having been made to delay and defeat the plaintiff and other creditors of the defendant. The bill of sale sued on was given to the defendant by her brother, who, in February, 1912, confessed judgment to the amount of some $50,000. Three months later he transferred to his sister the property mentioned in the bill of sale. His sister resided with him and acted as his housekeeper. The defence was that the brother was heavily indebted to the sister, and that it was merely through legitimate pressure on him to either pay or give security for his indebtedness that the transfer was made. The learned Chief Justice came to the conclusion on the evidence that the circumstances surrounding were suspicious, and put the burden of proof on the defendant to support the validity of the transaction. The only witness called in support of the defendant was the brother himself, who testified that the property was transferred to liquidate an outstanding claim for unpaid salary pressed by the sister; that they were compelled to reduce their living expenses, and that the idea was to reduce these expenses by getting rid of the property (horses and carriages) transferred. There was no corroborative evidence, in the shape of cheques, books of account, or correspondence between the brother and sister on the subject produced. The plaintiff's claim was therefore allowed and the bill of sale set aside, as proved. Defendant appealed, and the appeal was argued at Victoria on the 2nd day of June, 1913, before Macdonald, C.J.A., Irving, Martin, Galliher and McPhillips, JJ.A.

Argument was concluded and judgment reserved.

M. A. Macdonald for appellant; Burns for respondent.

WHITE STAR LINERS

A. E. Disney, North Pacific agents for the International Mercantile Marine Co., has been advised that the White Star-Dominion liner Megantic arrived at Montreal on Monday last, at 6 p. m., from Liverpool.

The steamship Canada, of the same fleet, left Liverpool on May 23 with 235 cabin and 380 third-class passengers for Montreal.

The White Star liner Adriatic, which left Liverpool on May 28 with 100 first, 130 second and 414 third-class passengers, is due at New York today.

The steamship Canopic, from Naples Bay, May 19, with 71 first, 294 second and 1,098 third-class passengers, arrived at Boston on June 1.
